'WAR TO PEACE' IS '45 TREND

Babson sees higher prices, job and payroll decline

Better real estate, early German collapse forecast

A higher cost of living and another big year in farm income are highlights of this year's annual Babson outlook for '45. Collapse of a large part of Germany's army with the end of the Japanese war following the complete Nazi downfall by 6 to 12 months are other points. Federal taxes will remain at '44 levels, with some reductions possible, and, though wages rates will be stable, "take home" pay will decrease. Roger Babson, long a recognized forecaster of economic and political conditions, believes that this year will find a strong reconversion to peacetime production and conditions. He states there will be enormous problems arising, with disposal of surplus government property the main issue.

Mr. Babson sees a rise in retail commodity prices, though volume of sales will decline. He expects "greater than ever" farm crops, depending on the weather. Farmers have experienced a run of several years good weather, and a drought or early frost wouldn't be surprising. Hog slaughter will decrease, however, leaving the farmer approximately the same income as in '44.

Wage hour rates will remain the same, though the Little Steel formula will be amended. "Take home" pay will be less, however, in spite of the rise in cost of living. Mr. Babson thinks Japan will not last as long after Germany's fall as many think, probably 6 to 12 months.

Main trend of '45 will be the swing to peacetime production and post-war planning. Of course, all surplus government property will first have to be disposed of. Then will come reconversion, which won't take as long as many aver. Jobs for returning vets will be kicked around as a political football.

The complete outlook follows:

General business

A year ago the United States Babsonchart Index of the Physical Volume of Business registered 148.6; today it registers 138, justifying my forecast of a year ago. The Canadian Babsonchart Index of the Physical Volume of Business registered 206.9 a year ago; today it registers 197. 1945 will show a reduction of more than 10 percent both in United States and Canadian business.

War production is already being cut back and this reduction will rapidly continue through 1945. Even those railroads and industries which expect to benefit from a long war with Japan will be disappointed.

The re-conversion of industry from war to peace business will increase during every month of 1945. Furthermore, time required for re-conversion will not be as great as most people believe.

Inventories quoted at their price values, rather than volumes, will continue, as a whole, during 1945 about as during 1944. Raw material piles will be larger, but manufactured goods will be smaller.

Population increases in the United States during 1945 will be about 700,000, but the birth of new babies will fall off somewhat.

Retail prices

Rationing will continue through the most of 1945. During the early part of the year, I expect to see further restrictions especially in connection with meats, canned goods, etc.

The retail prices of most necessities and some luxuries will be higher during 1945 than at present. The prices of some of the luxuries, such as furs, have already collapsed.

Steel prices of goods needed for peacetime manufacture should be a little higher, but prices of the heavy war goods will decline. This applies also to the heavy chemicals.

The wholesale prices of raw materials in general may decline during 1945, but most consumer goods will hold firm or sell at higher prices. For both gasoline and bituminous coal, there may be price concessions.

The great question mark of 1945 will be how, to whom and at what price the government will dispose of its billions of dollars worth of unneeded supplies.

Farm outlook

The weather will be the greatest factor in farm production and prices during 1945. The weather has been exceptionally good on the whole for the past few years, but sooner or later we will have a severe drought or an early freeze.

Pending a weather upset, more bushels of corn and wheat and more bales of cotton will be raised in 1945 than ever before in our history. Although some prices may slide off, the total farm income for the first half of 1945 should hold up.

There should be a 15 percent decline in hog slaughter and a 5 percent increase in cattle slaughter.

Dairy products will continue to increase both in volume and in price. I am forecasting at least a 3 percent rise in volume.

Farmers will start in 1945 to work again for legislation on their parity program, due to fear of a collapse in all farm prices after the war.

Taxes

Taxes will not be increased during 1945 and some will be reduced; in fact, some nuisance taxes will be eliminated altogether.

The Federal Debt will continue to increase during 1945.

Whatever is done about taxes, the cost of living will continue to rise during 1945.

Providing jobs for returning soldiers will be the big political football of 1945. I am not now prepared to forecast what will happen in this connection.

Through a coalition of Republicans and Conservative Democrats, we should have a "do nothing" Congress during 1945.

Retail sales

The volume retail sales will show a decline during 1945. Prices of ladies apparel and general luxuries will suffer, while grocery sales should be higher.

The total dollar retail sales should be about equal to 1944 with an increased demand for woolen and cotton textiles for civilian use.

There will be a great stampede in 1945 to get rid of the makeshift ersatz goods which have been made to take the place of good merchandise. Thus, 1945 will witness many "mark-down sales" of unrationed merchandise.

Wise will be those manufacturers, merchants and consumers who realize that postwar competition will be terrific and, therefore, withhold purchases until 1946.

Foreign trade

The United States will own over 50 percent of the world's ships in 1945.

There will be an increase in free exports with the "Freed Countries" but Lend-Lease exports will decline.

We will make England and Russia large postwar loans provided they spend the money in the United States.

Both the British Empire and Russia will go into the competitive foreign trade market during 1945; many cartels and government monopolies will be in operation. I, therefore, forecast higher prices for coffee, cocoa, sugar and many other articles for which we are absolutely dependent upon foreign countries.

No Central Bank will be organized nor will the stabilization of foreign currencies be attempted in 1945.

Labor

The Little Steel Formula will be amended during 1945.

Industrial employment during 1945 will be off 7 percent in hours and off 10 percent in pay rolls.

The building of a few new autos and new houses will be resumed during 1945.

Many industries, now operating on a forty-eight hour week, will return to a forty-hour week during 1945.

Wage rates will not decline, but "take-home" income will be less.

War outlook

The greater part of Germany's army will collapse before the German planting season opens in the spring of 1945. Before surrendering, Germany will try poison gas.

Japan will not hold out as long as most people think. Japan will collapse within six or twelve months after Germany collapses.

If Stalin's health continues, he will be the world's most powerful man in 1945 and may dictate the peace terms, especially for the Pacific.

Sometime after April, 1945, Russia will join (or threaten to) the Allies against Japan but only after the promise of territory privileges and a huge loan.

The markets may witness a "communistic scare" during 1945; but they should soon recover thereafter.

Capt. Otto Masny missing in Germany

Capt. Otto Masny of Arlington Heights has been reported missing in action in Germany according to a war department wire received last Thursday. Otto has been missing since Dec. 7. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Masny of Arlington Heights.

Capt. Masny was a member of an American Rangers unit, landing on the continent on D-Day. It was in Normandy that Otto was awarded the Silver Star. Citation for this award stated, "for heroism at Pte du Hoe, France, where, under heavy enemy fire, he led his company onto the beach. He was wounded but refused to be evacuated, and was an inspiration to his men to stave off three German counter attacks. A few days later he led a patrol which destroyed an enemy ammunition dump.

Capt. Masny was wounded in the arm by shrapnel, and was later taken to an English hospital for treatment. He was soon back on the continent with his men. His unit fought through Belgium, thence into Luxemburg and Germany. He was awarded the Purple Heart for his wounds.

Capt. Masny entered service the end of 1940. He went overseas in November of '43 from Fort Dix, New Jersey. Otto has a brother, Myron, who is a corporal at Camp Fannin, Texas.

Your Neighbor reports $169,636 'E' bonds sold

Dear Neighbor:

Last week I said "facts and figures," BUT I simply can't believe these final figures on bond sales in Arlington Heights during the 6th War Loan Drive! Listen to this — and it's authentic — total sales to individuals $161,635.50, which represents 1601 sales; and the overall sales, including sales to corporations and organizations, brought the total to 230,000.00!

Arlington Heights can do a little bragging, I think, because our quota for sales to individuals was $100,000. The whole community and rural district got behind this drive with these amazing results.

The Committee for the 6th War Loan Drive wants to extend its appreciation to every working — and every buying — neighbor. Your spirit of cooperation and your ready response to our Victory Volunteers certainly proved you to be GOOD NEIGHBORS.

Thanks again to each and every one of you.

Your Neighbor.

Wheeling township has no financial troubles, but --

'Jobs on the side' help pay '44 tax waits and waits for tax checks

When the Herald learned a month ago that there would be no road and bridge levy in Wheeling township for next year, this newspaper thought that it was just a matter of economy on the part of the road commissioner's office. The editor now finds out that the saving that will result to all township tax payers in next year's taxes is because Mr. Dobbins found other ways to get the money.

The township of Wheeling possesses a lot of road making equipment. Subdividers are glad to enter into a contract with the road commissioner to grade their roads and Mr. Dobbins is very glad to oblige them. He does the job, presents the bill and the check received is turned over to the township road and bridge fund. Result, no taxes were levied for 1944.

There is also another side of the picture. Too often an inexperienced workman will attempt to grade new subdivision roads and when the roads are turned over to the township road commissioner by the county highway department, the commissioner, at great expense to the township, must rebuild the entire road. Where the original job is done by the highway commissioner himself and the initial expense is paid for by the subdivider, the township will have little expense in the care of the roads for years to come.

The subdividers of Arlingdale, new subdivision on Euclid between the village and the race track property had the road commissioner do the job costing them nearly $1,000 for the work in addition to the stone that was spread. Mr. Dobbins estimates that it will be nearly ten years before any great amount of money will have to be spent on the roads of that subdivision.

In another subdivision the work was done by private contractor. When the road was taken over by the township, they had to be entirely rebuilt.

Commissioner Floyd Dobbins is doing a real job on the roads under his care.

Northbrook priest struck by car

Father Benz of Northbrook suffered four fractures of the legs, and bruises about the head last week Thursday when he was struck by an auto along Waukegan road at Techny. Rev. Benz had been walking along the road about 7:45 a. m. when he was hit by the auto driven by two officers from Glenview naval base. He was taken to St. Theresa hospital, Waukegan.

Seek aid for neglected dogs

The editor's attention has been called to neglect of dogs by some residents of this area, particularly in cold weather. Severe cold spells are known, in at least one case, to have frozen the ears of dogs not allowed in their masters' homes.

Doghouses (not the human kind) provide protection from rain and are o. k. three seasons of the year, but in 10 above and colder weather it certainly does not show good sense in leaving a dog outside all of the time. Many persons show neglect of their pets the year around, which shows no love for a dog, but neglect in cold weather should be a punishable offense.

Cpl. Geo. Horcher wounded in France; is recovering

Corporal Geo. Horcher, son of Andrew Horcher, Arlington Heights, is recovering from wounds in a hospital in France. First word of the wounds was received by the family in a letter from their son. The government official notice was not received until last Saturday.

Corporal Horcher was hit by shrapnel in the back and left leg December 14. His letters stated that since arriving in France about the middle of October he had been in almost constant combat. His letter was cheerful and he looks forward to a return to duty.

Henry C. Meyer died Wednesday

Henry C. Meyer, 71, who resided on a farm north of Arlington Heights, died Wednesday morning following a lingering illness. Funeral services await word from his son, who is in the Panama region. Date of funeral can be learned by phoning Walter Karstens.

Oppose revised zoning for Arlington plant

Scarsdale and Stonegate object to manufacturing dist.

A public hearing was held on Thursday evening in the Arlington Heights village hall by the Cook County Zoning Board of Appeals on a petition to have land occupied by the Thermal-Tite Mfg. Co. zoned for industrial purposes.

In place of a "heavy industrial" rating to which there was more or less objection a compromise with a light industrial rating appeared to be acceptable until Monday evening when delegations from Stonegate and Scarsdale respectively appeared before the Arlington board, voicing their objection to any industrial rating for the manufacturing company, the plant of which was partially destroyed by fire on October 27.

Scarsdale was represented by Messrs. Frank Carr, Kenneth Kennedy, H. J. Gregg, Albert Beese. Stonegate representatives were L. F. Biedermann, C. H. Mills, W. Jacobus and Richard C. Frasier.

The speakers did not appear to object so strongly against the operation of the company on its existing basis, but feared an expansion of operations that would make the plant a nuisance to the Arlington residential area. Attorney Thal was directed to ask the zoning board for a reopening of the case.

The Thermal-Tite Mfg. Co. hope to rebuild its plant. They have been assured that it could again be in operation three months after work was started. The plant employs 28 to 30 men when in operation.

The board of appeals made no decision at the hearing. The villages of Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect will have the opportunity to file objections within 10 days of the hearing.

The zoning laws require that in case a fire destroys fifty per cent of a building in a non-conforming area, the structure can not be rebuilt unless existing zoning classification authorizes the structure. At present the land occupied by the plant has never been zoned and is classified as farming area.

Chaplain Fricke here New Years

Chaplain Harry C. Fricke was able to spend New Years with his family in Arlington Heights and greet many of his friends of St. Peter congregation of which he is pastor on leave.

This was his first visit home since June. Following a breakdown during the summer when he was the only chaplain at one of the largest prisoner of war camps in the country, he was sent to a hospital for six weeks. With his recovery he was transferred to Camp Warren, Cheyenne, Wyo., where he is with a railroad battalion. He will return to that post Sunday evening.

While in Arlington he officiated at the marriage of Miss Gertrude Dieball of his congregation to a member of the armed forces. His pastoral work in the army includes many weddings. His chapel, known as the Argonne has proven to be very popular among wedding couples.

Palatine over 230% of quota

Final returns for the sixth war loan drive show that Palatine bond sales reached a total of $146,187.50 or over 230 per cent of the quota assigned to the community.

This fine total does not take into account any of the bonds bought by hundreds of Palatine people, who are purchasing bonds on the pay roll deduction plan where they are employed.

If these credits are added to the amount of actual bond purchases made in Palatine, the total would be increased many thousands of dollars.

The opening of the Palatine National Bank at the start of the drive contributed heavily to the Palatine bond sales, as a great many bonds were purchased at the new bank.

This was the first bond drive in which Palatine has had the benefit of a banking nistitution in making their quota.

Chairman Frank Hartman of the 6th war bond drive and the executive committee express their thanks and appreciation to the army of loyal workers, to the Palatine National Bank and to the Palatine post office for the splendid cooperation which made possible Palatine's fine showing in the 6th war loan drive, which has just closed.

Casualty correction

Two errors in last week's publication of war casualties of local boys have been reported to this newspaper:

Wounded—Pfc. Donald L. Coakley of Palatine, on Guam.

Missing—Lt. Franklin Bublitz, Arlington Heights, should have appeared among those who are missing.

100 Birthdays

MRS. REDLINGER

Wheeling woman 100 years old New Year's Day

Grand nephews and nieces, together with other relatives, numbering 35, celebrated Monday noon the 100th birthday of Mrs. Magdalena Redlinger, north of Wheeling. It was a great event for the Wheeling area and recognition of the century anniversary was given by two national radio stations, one of which sent an orchid to her by express.

It was in reality a two day celebration. Sunday an open house was held for all who desired to pay their respects. Monday, her actual birthday, was observed with the family party. Relatives were present from Arlington Heights, Chicago, Oak Park, Palatine, So. Dakota, Florida and Glenview.

An 18 year old girl could not have had more enjoyment over her birthday than did Mrs. Redlinger. She was the life of tre party, meeting her guests at the door, and with her ready wit had an answer for all questions that came her way.

"To live long," said Mrs. Redlinger, "a person must first of all lead a happy life. Take pleasure in your work, eat well, get plenty of sleep, keep away from night clubs and mind your own business."

Mrs. Redlinger never wears glasses. She does all the mending for the family and doing her share of the work about the house tells her family, "I am too old to start getting lazy".

Among the well wishers who called upon her were members of the Ladies Aid of the Wheeling Presbyterian church, who presented a plant that will carry on the memory of that event for many more days to come.

The only modern convenience that Mrs. Redlinger enjoys is electricity and she thinks that it was not absolutely necessary. But her mind is keen and while she sits on the sidelines and watches the world go by, she has only thankfulness for the goodness of the Lord.

Commenting on the present war, Mrs. Redlinger says, "Many generations ago I heard our country was doomed, but we came through. There is only one sorrow I have as I approach my one hundreth birthday. It is the war. It is so useless to kill off our fine young men."

Mrs. Redlinger has lived in only three dwellings. The house in which she was born near Aptakisic on Jan. 1, 1845; the one nearby where she moved after her marriage to Christian Redlinger, and her present home. She has made several trips to distant states, but the greater number of her years were spent within 20 miles of the present homestead.

Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wolf. Her husband, Christian Redlinger, died in 1917. Two of her children have passed away, and she is the last of eight children.

Mrs. Redlinger's four children, all living at home, are Mrs. Julia Lobstein, Lillie, Amelia and Ervin. The Hausams at Arlington Heights, Celia, Lydia, Frank and Jesse, are grandnieces and nephew of this grand old woman.

Lillian Johnson rolls 612 to break all women records

Lillian Johnson, wife of Mar Johnson, bowling in the Tuesday league surprised even herself when she rolled a total of 612 for the three games. The totals were: 198, 211 and 203. Her average is 145.

She was showered with congratulations from the other bowlers. Her score is said to be higher than made on the local alleys by any other Arlington Heights woman bowler and is something for even men folks to shoot towards.

Taxing bodies agree on basis of foreclosures

Will pave the way for land relief at Mt. Prospect

Arlington Heights village board Tuesday evening appointed Aldermen Franke and Griffith, with Attorney Thal, to represent the village on the joint committee of local taxing bodies to study the delinquent tax situation. The committee's report will be made before a joint meeting of the full boards of the high school, park district, elementary school and the village.

The board of education of the village of Mt. Prospect and the Mt. Prospect Village Board have agreed upon a basis for the minimum amount that will be satisfactory to them in foreclosure proceedings on general taxes. Each body has passed a resolution that will be presented to the County Board and which is expected to meet its approval and that of the states attorney's office.

The foreclosure program at Mt. Prospect may be enlarged to also include special assessments, if the board accepts the offer made Tuesday evening by Attorney Hugo J. Thal in behalf of the owners of twenty vacant lots.

The resolution of the two taxing bodies specify that in case of improved property the minimum bid shall be sixty percent of the general tax due, with a forgiveness of all interest and penalties. The bidders under the general rule adopted by the county board and state's attorney, must also pay in full the taxes and penalties for 1941, 1942 and 1943. It is realized by the taxing bodies that the net amount they will receive on the taxes prior to 1941 will be small, but the amount they will receive for subsequent years makes the program worth while.

The resolution also suggests a bid of not less than forty per cent on "one purpose property". An example of such a property is the club house of the country club that can not be used for any other purpose. Its owners have given up all hopes of liquidating the property but have a purchaser who is willing to save the club house and the golf grounds for Mt. Prospect if a compromise tax settlement can be made.

Trustees Mott and Kirchhoff were appointed as members of the foreclosure committee to act with a similar committee of the elementary school and high school, to which the Mt. Prospect plan has not yet been suggested. The high school has, however, appointed a committee to act with the taxing bodies of Arlington Heights on a somewhat similar plan.

The offer of Attorney Thal made that evening covers vacant property in various sections of Prospect Park subdivision. His clients offer to bid 33 per cent on the special assessments, pay all costs of the foreclosure and to bid a like amount in settlement of the general taxes.

Mr. Thal told the board that in many cases the special assessments with penalties exceed the value of the lots and the plan presented to Mt. Prospect board is along lines that is placing back on the tax books much property in adjoining communities.

The board took no action on the offer made by Mr. Thal, but appeared to look with favor on the proposition.

Definite action on a freclosure program in Mt. Prospect was brought to a head by the sale of a choice piece income producing property under tax foreclosure at a very low price.

It was a slippery morning for cars

Saturday, December 30, was a slippery morning—too slippery for four cars which could not stop in time to avoid collision at Mt. Prospect. Stanley E. Trebing, 414 N. Wille, Mt. Prospect, going south on route 83, had stopped to pick up a passenger bound for the Douglas plant. Byron Bohrer, T. M. Fay and G. H. Moritz, all south bound from Prospect Heights, in the order named, hit the car in front in one, two, three order.

Wage rates will not decline, but "take-home" income will be less.

War outlook

The greater part of Germany's army will collapse before the German planting season opens in the spring of 1945. Before surrendering, Germany will try poison gas.

Japan will not hold out as long as most people think. Japan will collapse within six or twelve months after Germany collapses.

If Stalin's health continues, he will be the world's most powerful man in 1945 and may dictate the peace terms, especially for the Pacific.

Sometime after April, 1945, Russia will join (or threaten to) the Allies against Japan but only after the promise of territory privileges and a huge loan.

The markets may witness a "communistic scare" during 1945; but they should soon recover thereafter.

Capt. Otto Masny missing in Germany

Capt. Otto Masny of Arlington Heights has been reported missing in action in Germany according to a war department wire received last Thursday. Otto has been missing since Dec. 7. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Masny of Arlington Heights.

Capt. Masny was a member of an American Rangers unit, landing on the continent on D-Day. It was in Normandy that Otto was awarded the Silver Star. Citation for this award stated, "for heroism at Pte du Hoe, France, where, under heavy enemy fire, he led his company onto the beach. He was wounded but refused to be evacuated, and was an inspiration to his men to stave off three German counter attacks. A few days later he led a patrol which destroyed an enemy ammunition dump.

Capt. Masny was wounded in the arm by shrapnel, and was later taken to an English hospital for treatment. He was soon back on the continent with his men. His unit fought through Belgium, thence into Luxemburg and Germany. He was awarded the Purple Heart for his wounds.

Capt. Masny entered service the end of 1940. He went overseas in November of '43 from Fort Dix, New Jersey. Otto has a brother, Myron, who is a corporal at Camp Fannin, Texas.

Your Neighbor reports $169,636 'E' bonds sold

Dear Neighbor:

Last week I said "facts and figures," BUT I simply can't believe these final figures on bond sales in Arlington Heights during the 6th War Loan Drive! Listen to this — and it's authentic — total sales to individuals $161,635.50, which represents 1601 sales; and the overall sales, including sales to corporations and organizations, brought the total to 230,000.00!

Arlington Heights can do a little bragging, I think, because our quota for sales to individuals was $100,000. The whole community and rural district got behind this drive with these amazing results.

The Committee for the 6th War Loan Drive wants to extend its appreciation to every working — and every buying — neighbor. Your spirit of cooperation and your ready response to our Victory Volunteers certainly proved you to be GOOD NEIGHBORS.

Thanks again to each and every one of you.

Your Neighbor.

Cpl. Geo. Horcher wounded in France; is recovering

Corporal Geo. Horcher, son of Andrew Horcher, Arlington Heights, is recovering from wounds in a hospital in France. First word of the wounds was received by the family in a letter from their son. The government official notice was not received until last Saturday.

Corporal Horcher was hit by shrapnel in the back and left leg December 14. His letters stated that since arriving in France about the middle of October he had been in almost constant combat. His letter was cheerful and he looks forward to a return to duty.

Oppose revised zoning for Arlington plant

Scarsdale and Stonegate object to manufacturing dist.

A public hearing was held on Thursday evening in the Arlington Heights village hall by the Cook County Zoning Board of Appeals on a petition to have land occupied by the Thermal-Tite Mfg. Co. zoned for industrial purposes.

In place of a "heavy industrial" rating to which there was more or less objection a compromise with a light industrial rating appeared to be acceptable until Monday evening when delegations from Stonegate and Scarsdale respectively appeared before the Arlington board, voicing their objection to any industrial rating for the manufacturing company, the plant of which was partially destroyed by fire on October 27.

Scarsdale was represented by Messrs. Frank Carr, Kenneth Kennedy, H. J. Gregg, Albert Beese. Stonegate representatives were L. F. Biedermann, C. H. Mills, W. Jacobus and Richard C. Frasier.

The speakers did not appear to object so strongly against the operation of the company on its existing basis, but feared an expansion of operations that would make the plant a nuisance to the Arlington residential area. Attorney Thal was directed to ask the zoning board for a reopening of the case.

The Thermal-Tite Mfg. Co. hope to rebuild its plant. They have been assured that it could again be in operation three months after work was started. The plant employs 28 to 30 men when in operation.

The board of appeals made no decision at the hearing. The villages of Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect will have the opportunity to file objections within 10 days of the hearing.

The zoning laws require that in case a fire destroys fifty per cent of a building in a non-conforming area, the structure can not be rebuilt unless existing zoning classification authorizes the structure. At present the land occupied by the plant has never been zoned and is classified as farming area.

Chaplain Fricke here New Years

Chaplain Harry C. Fricke was able to spend New Years with his family in Arlington Heights and greet many of his friends of St. Peter congregation of which he is pastor on leave.

This was his first visit home since June. Following a breakdown during the summer when he was the only chaplain at one of the largest prisoner of war camps in the country, he was sent to a hospital for six weeks. With his recovery he was transferred to Camp Warren, Cheyenne, Wyo., where he is with a railroad battalion. He will return to that post Sunday evening.

While in Arlington he officiated at the marriage of Miss Gertrude Dieball of his congregation to a member of the armed forces. His pastoral work in the army includes many weddings. His chapel, known as the Argonne has proven to be very popular among wedding couples.

Palatine over 230% of quota

Final returns for the sixth war loan drive show that Palatine bond sales reached a total of $146,187.50 or over 230 per cent of the quota assigned to the community.

This fine total does not take into account any of the bonds bought by hundreds of Palatine people, who are purchasing bonds on the pay roll deduction plan where they are employed.

If these credits are added to the amount of actual bond purchases made in Palatine, the total would be increased many thousands of dollars.

The opening of the Palatine National Bank at the start of the drive contributed heavily to the Palatine bond sales, as a great many bonds were purchased at the new bank.

This was the first bond drive in which Palatine has had the benefit of a banking nistitution in making their quota.

Chairman Frank Hartman of the 6th war bond drive and the executive committee express their thanks and appreciation to the army of loyal workers, to the Palatine National Bank and to the Palatine post office for the splendid cooperation which made possible Palatine's fine showing in the 6th war loan drive, which has just closed.

MRS. REDLINGER

Wheeling woman 100 years old New Year's Day

Grand nephews and nieces, together with other relatives, numbering 35, celebrated Monday noon the 100th birthday of Mrs. Magdalena Redlinger, north of Wheeling. It was a great event for the Wheeling area and recognition of the century anniversary was given by two national radio stations, one of which sent an orchid to her by express.

It was in reality a two day celebration. Sunday an open house was held for all who desired to pay their respects. Monday, her actual birthday, was observed with the family party. Relatives were present from Arlington Heights, Chicago, Oak Park, Palatine, So. Dakota, Florida and Glenview.

An 18 year old girl could not have had more enjoyment over her birthday than did Mrs. Redlinger. She was the life of tre party, meeting her guests at the door, and with her ready wit had an answer for all questions that came her way.

"To live long," said Mrs. Redlinger, "a person must first of all lead a happy life. Take pleasure in your work, eat well, get plenty of sleep, keep away from night clubs and mind your own business."

Mrs. Redlinger never wears glasses. She does all the mending for the family and doing her share of the work about the house tells her family, "I am too old to start getting lazy".

Among the well wishers who called upon her were members of the Ladies Aid of the Wheeling Presbyterian church, who presented a plant that will carry on the memory of that event for many more days to come.

The only modern convenience that Mrs. Redlinger enjoys is electricity and she thinks that it was not absolutely necessary. But her mind is keen and while she sits on the sidelines and watches the world go by, she has only thankfulness for the goodness of the Lord.

Commenting on the present war, Mrs. Redlinger says, 'Many generations ago I heard our country was doomed, but we came through. There is only one sorrow I have as I approach my one hundreth birthday. It is the war. It is so useless to kill off our fine young men."

Mrs. Redlinger has lived in only three dwellings. The house in which she was born near Aptakisic on Jan. 1, 1845; the one nearby where she moved after her marriage to Christian Redlinger, and her present home. She has made several trips to distant states, but the greater number of her years were spent within 20 miles of the present homestead.

Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wolf. Her husband, Christian Redlinger, died in 1917. Two of her children have passed away, and she is the last of eight children.

Mrs. Redlinger's four children, all living at home, are Mrs. Julia Lobstein, Lillie, Amelia and Ervin. The Hausams at Arlington Heights, Celia, Lydia, Frank and Jesse, are grandnieces and nephew of this grand old woman.

Lillian Johnson rolls 612 to break all women records

Lillian Johnson, wife of Mar Johnson, bowling in the Tuesday league surprised even herself when she rolled a total of 612 for the three games. The totals were: 198, 211 and 203. Her average is 145.

She was showered with congratulations from the other bowlers. Her score is said to be higher than made on the local alleys by any other Arlington Heights woman bowler and is something for even men folks to shoot towards.

Taxing bodies agree on basis of foreclosures

Will pave the way for land relief at Mt. Prospect

Arlington Heights village board Tuesday evening appointed Aldermen Franke and Griffith, with Attorney Thal, to represent the village on the joint committee of local taxing bodies to study the delinquent tax situation. The committee's report will be made before a joint meeting of the full boards of the high school, park district, elementary school and the village.

The board of education of the village of Mt. Prospect and the Mt. Prospect Village Board have agreed upon a basis for the minimum amount that will be satisfactory to them in foreclosure proceedings on general taxes. Each body has passed a resolution that will be presented to the County Board and which is expected to meet its approval and that of the states attorney's office.

The foreclosure program at Mt. Prospect may be enlarged to also include special assessments, if the board accepts the offer made Tuesday evening by Attorney Hugo J. Thal in behalf of the owners of twenty vacant lots.

The resolution of the two taxing bodies specify that in case of improved property the minimum bid shall be sixty percent of the general tax due, with a forgiveness of all interest and penalties. The bidders under the general rule adopted by the county board and state's attorney, must also pay in full the taxes and penalties for 1941, 1942 and 1943. It is realized by the taxing bodies that the net amount they will receive on the taxes prior to 1941 will be small, but the amount they will receive for subsequent years makes the program worth while.

The resolution also suggests a bid of not less than forty per cent on "one purpose property". An example of such a property is the club house of the country club that can not be used for any other purpose. Its owners have given up all hopes of liquidating the property but have a purchaser who is willing to save the club house and the golf grounds for Mt. Prospect if a compromise tax settlement can be made.

Trustees Mott and Kirchhoff were appointed as members of the foreclosure committee to act with a similar committee of the elementary school and high school, to which the Mt. Prospect plan has not yet been suggested. The high school has, however, appointed a committee to act with the taxing bodies of Arlington Heights on a somewhat similar plan.

The offer of Attorney Thal made that evening covers vacant property in various sections of Prospect Park subdivision. His clients offer to bid 33 per cent on the special assessments, pay all costs of the foreclosure and to bid a like amount in settlement of the general taxes.

Mr. Thal told the board that in many cases the special assessments with penalties exceed the value of the lots and the plan presented to Mt. Prospect board is along lines that is placing back on the tax books much property in adjoining communities.

The board took no action on the offer made by Mr. Thal, but appeared to look with favor on the proposition.

Definite action on a freclosure program in Mt. Prospect was brought to a head by the sale of a choice piece income producing property under tax foreclosure at a very low price.

It was a slippery morning for cars

Saturday, December 30, was a slippery morning—too slippery for four cars which could not stop in time to avoid collision at Mt. Prospect. Stanley E. Trebing, 414 N. Wille, Mt. Prospect, going south on route 83, had stopped to pick up a passenger bound for the Douglas plant. Byron Bohrer, T. M. Fay and G. H. Moritz, all south bound from Prospect Heights, in the order named, hit the car in front in one, two, three order.

Wheeling township has no financial troubles, but --

'Jobs on the side' help pay '44 tax

When the Herald learned a month ago that there would be no road and bridge levy in Wheeling township for next year, this newspaper thought that it was just a matter of economy on the part of the road commissioner's office. The editor now finds out that the saving that will result to all township tax payers in next year's taxes is because Mr. Dobbins found other ways to get the money.

The township of Wheeling possesses a lot of road making equipment. Subdividers are glad to enter into a contract with the road commissioner to grade their roads and Mr. Dobbins is very glad to oblige them. He does the job, presents the bill and the check received is turned over to the township road and bridge fund. Result, no taxes were levied for 1944.

There is also another side of the picture. Too often an inexperienced workman will attempt to grade new subdivision roads and when the roads are turned over to the township road commissioner by the county highway department, the commissioner, at great expense to the township, must rebuild the entire road. Where the original job is done by the highway commissioner himself and the initial expense is paid for by the subdivider, the township will have little expense in the care of the roads for years to come.

The subdividers of Arlingdale, new subdivision on Euclid between the village and the race track property had the road commissioner do the job costing them nearly $1,000 for the work in addition to the stone that was spread. Mr. Dobbins estimates that it will be nearly ten years before any great amount of money will have to be spent on the roads of that subdivision.

In another subdivision the work was done by private contractor. When the road was taken over by the township, they had to be entirely rebuilt.

Commissioner Floyd Dobbins is doing a real job on the roads under his care.

waits and waits for tax checks

There is a lot of talk these days about the need of tax foreclosures in order that local taxing bodies can get the tax money due them. This paper has discovered another side of the story. If the county treasurer would release the funds that he is withholding from local taxing bodies there would be a possibility of a tax holiday for all taxpayers.

Gilbert Klehm, Wheeling township supervisor and treasurer received an accounting sheet for the end of the year which shows that the county is holding back $14,000 of Wheeling township tax money. They are credited as follows:

Township Fund	$3,829.81
Relief Fund	6,849.28
Rod and Bridge Fund	3,132.02

"It is discouraging," says Supervisor Klehm, "to get an accounting sheet reading like this:

Township Fund

Amount of 1943 taxes received	$1,620.00
Amount placed in reserve	1,595.00
Check enclosed	25.54

A similar situation exists in the Road and Bridge Fund. In October the county collected $905. It held back $780. For the same period the relief fund received only $30.84 out of $2,467 that had been paid at the office of the county treasurer."

There is probably no taxing body that is held down to a closer minimum than the township. Its yearly budget is discussed at the annual meeting and closely scrutinized. It is not uncommon for the electors attending the annual meeting to lop off a few dollars here and there. On paper it looks good, but in reality the township board is between the devil and the deep blue sea. Anyway the township officers are "in the middle" with a budget that is pared to the bone and a tax collecting system that withholds money that is rightfully due them.

Supervisor Klehm made it clear when interviewed that the township is not in financial difficulties. It is otherwise. Last month the last of $7,000 in food store judgements was paid. There are no outstanding bills against any of the three town funds. The road and bridge fund has plenty of money with which to operate, and the 1944 tax warrants issued to pay 1944 expenses of the township and relief funds are much less than usual at this time of the year.

There has been no relief money paid to the township from the state funds in the last three years. The only families on relief are those which have no wage earner member. Relief is costing the people of Wheeling township approximately $6,000 a year.

"It must be remembered," states Mr. Klehm, "that this relief includes not alone Arlington Heights, but the village of Wheeling, Prospect Heights, part of Mt. Prospect and three persons who are receiving care at Oak Forest, which expense is charged to the township."

Northbrook priest struck by car

Father Benz of Northbrook suffered four fractures of the legs, and bruises about the head last week Thursday when he was struck by an auto along Waukegan road at Techny. Rev. Benz had been walking along the road about 7:45 a. m. when he was hit by the auto driven by two officers from Glenview naval base. He was taken to St. Theresa hospital, Waukegan.

Seek aid for neglected dogs

The editor's attention has been called to neglect of dogs by some residents of this area, particularly in cold weather. Severe cold spells are known, in at least one case, to have frozen the ears of dogs not allowed in their masters' homes.

Doghouses (not the human kind) provide protection from rain and are o. k. three seasons of the year, but in 10 above and colder weather it certainly does not show good sense in leaving a dog outside all of the time. Many persons show neglect of their pets the year around, which shows no love for a dog, but neglect in cold weather should be a punishable offense.

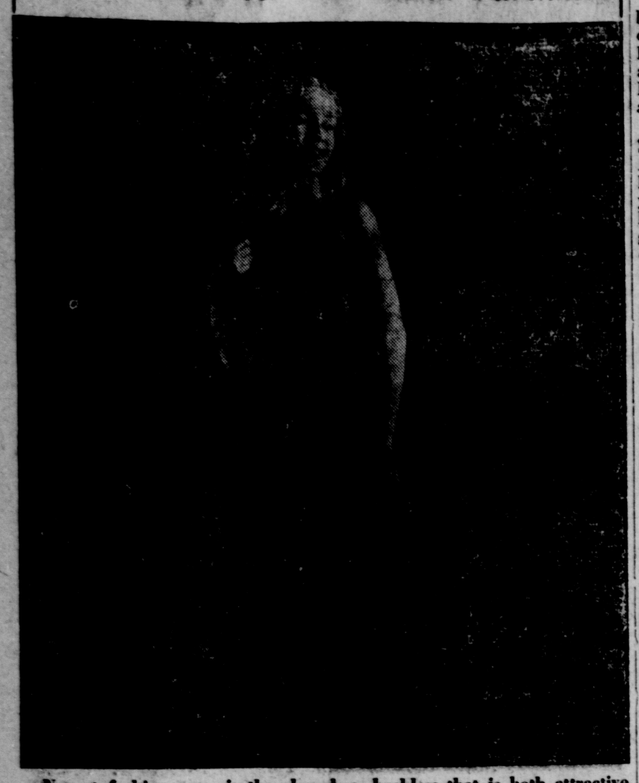
Casualty correction

Two errors in last week's publication of war casualties of local boys have been reported to this newspaper:

Wounded—Pfc. Donald L. Coakley of Palatine, on Guam.

Missing—Lt. Franklin Bublitz, Arlington Heights, should have appeared among those who are missing.

Make This Dress Yourself and Save for War Bond Purchases



Newest fashion news is the sleeveless, backless that is both attractive and versatile. Wear it as is for sports and suntanning, then add a perky matching bolero for street wear. Especially vivid in a tropical green or red, you might make several in various colors, mixing and matching for different occasions. Every garment made at home means more money saved for War Bonds. A suitable pattern may be obtained at your local store. U. S. Treasury Department

Rat Control

In closely populated districts rat control must be a community concern. Even in rural areas rats travel from one farm to another.

Banana Market

Together, the United States and Canada ordinarily consume about three-fifths of the total banana crop of 100 million stems per year; with the British Isles the next most important buyer, and the Scandinavian countries and Central and Southern Europe as secondary markets. Also a relatively small but increasing percentage of the crop is being shipped southward into the temperate countries of South America.

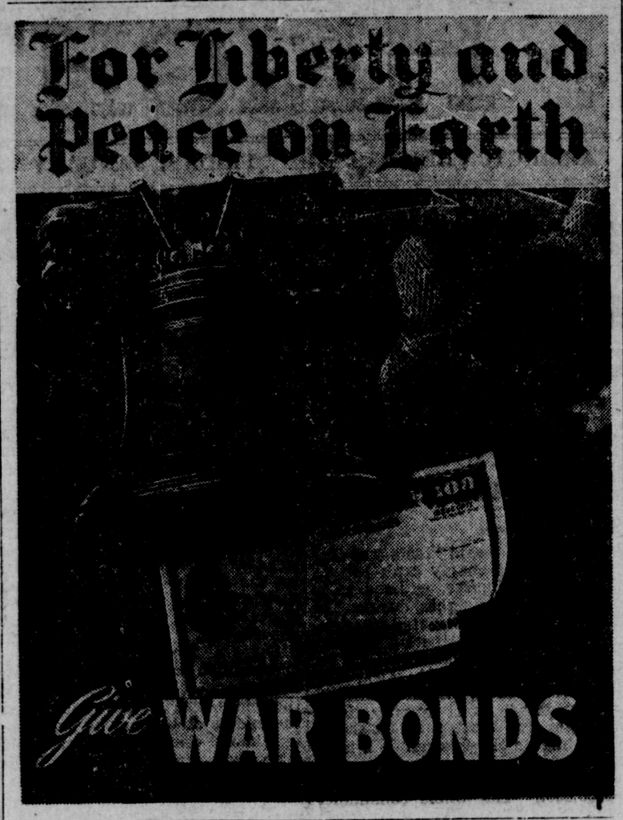
Wheat for Layers

Hens will lay well if wheat is used as the only grain in the scratch feed, say poultry specialists of the Pennsylvania State college. If enough vitamin A is supplied in other feeds, ground wheat can replace the scarce corn in the mash.



Babson forecast —

Stock market

The rails will show the greatest decline during 1945, because the airplane and shipbuilding stocks are already pretty much deflated.

The heavy chemicals, steels and motors may hold their own during 1945; but consumer goods will do much better.

The safest stocks to buy—considering value, income and safety—will be the merchandising stocks, especially the chain store stocks.

1944 saw a large increase in the demand for peace stocks with a decline in war stocks; but 1945 will witness them both moving more or less together. Switching has been over-done in most cases.

1945 will continue to witness creeping inflation, although the big movement toward inflation will not take place until the next business depression which will follow the postwar prosperity.

Bonds

Though bank loan rates should continue to have an upward tendency, interest rates in general will remain low through 1945, since the money supply is now 20 percent above normal and government controls will continue.

Anticipating the expected decline in Federal taxes, 1945 should surely see a falling off in the price of most municipal and probably other tax-exempt bonds.

The highest grade corporation bonds will decline during 1945.

Investors will give much more attention to diversification and staggered bond maturities during 1945.

More public utilities will be taken over by municipalities and "Authorities" during 1945.

Real estate

Suburban real estate will be in much greater demand with higher prices during 1945.

City real estate should hold its own, excepting in the congested war areas where declines may set in.

Small productive farms will continue to increase in price; but large farms may sell for less in 1945 than in 1944.

Building will show a considerable increase. Contracts will be up 25 percent, but prices may be a little lower due to increases in lumber and cement production.

There will be no changes in residential rents during 1945.

Real estate will be helped by Congress ceasing to induct any more men into the armed services after June 30, 1945.

Politics and peace

The uncertain political factor of 1945 will be Mr. Roosevelt. People will soon fear that he may resign before the next Congressional Elections either on account of ill health or to become head of a Peace Commission or new World Organization.

Our foreign headaches will become worse and more frequent during 1945. What we are going through to reorganize Italy, will be repeated in many other countries.

The Latin American honeymoon has passed its peak. The attitude of Argentina will extend to other countries and our South American troubles will increase during 1945.

1945 will see more religious interest, including more church-going, than did 1944. People gradually are realizing that without a Spiritual Awakening no peace or other plans will be much good. Nations cannot be depended upon to cooperate and stick to their agreements unless they recognize God as their real Ruler and Guide.

Animal Pest Control

Many domestic animals become unthrifty and do not gain in weight or produce products profitably because they are infested with external or internal parasites. Such animals are wasters of feed and do not pay adequately for labor and investments devoted to them. Internal and external parasites are invariably more prevalent in the wintertime, because of closer confinement, and cause the greatest feed and revenue loss at this time when feed costs are higher. Animal pest control will save valuable feed now.

Post of Valor

Marines at "point" position walk in advance of their patrol. Their duty is to give warning of the presence of an enemy and to fire on all hostile elements within effective range. These heroic fatalists often sacrifice their lives detecting snipers and Jap jungle traps.

Deep Lake

Lake Pend Oreille in northern Idaho, upon which Farragut Naval Training station is located, if drained, would leave a chasm deeper than the Grand canyon.

Headache is a symptom

by C. W. LUSSMAN of Sieburg Pharmacy

No one ever has "just a headache." Somewhere in his or her system, hidden to all but a qualified physician, there is a cause, a reason, for the ache. And it's a physical disability that only a doctor can correctly diagnose, prescribe and remedy and thus save the sufferer from more serious complications.

Perhaps no human ailment is so frequently neglected as are headaches, nor so unsuccessfully self-treated. Even occasional headaches should serve as a warning that something is wrong with the functioning of the organic structure, and should result in a visit to the doctor's office for advice.

Then the choice of a druggist to fill the prescription should be a careful one.

For its outstanding record in the encouraging of Victory gardens and home food preservation during the 1944 season, the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois has been awarded the 1944 Victory Garden Plaque, highest honor of the National Victory Garden Institute.

The awarding of the plaque, which was based on number of company and home gardens, size of company plots, acreage, pounds of food grown, cost of operation and advertising support, will take place at the Blackstone Hotel in Chicago on January 11 when Lester J. Norris, chairman of the Institute, will present the award to Britton I. Budd, company president.

More than 2,000 company employes—approximately one-half of the entire personnel—planted and harvested Victory gardens on company plots, neighborhood vacant lots and in back yards under the company's 1944 garden program which was directed by Arthur F. Senior.

Industrial Center

Buenos Aires contains about one-third of Argentina's more than 50,000 industrial plants. Meat packing, centered in the capital and carried on by British, American and Argentine interests, has become the country's leading industry. It is a natural outgrowth of the strikingly favorable conditions for cattle and sheep raising, plus the development of refrigeration, which revolutionized the industry by making it possible to export formerly perishable animal products.

New Trade

The banana trade as we now know it is decidedly new. The first bananas to arrive in New York were brought here from Cuba in 1804. By 1830 occasional clipper ships were bringing small cargoes from Cuba and the Bahamas. This trickle gradually increased, but as recently as the Philadelphia Centennial of 1876, red bananas wrapped in tinfoil were sold as an exotic curiosity.

Make This Dress Yourself and Save for War Bond Purchases

Newest fashion news is the sleeveless, backless that is both attractive and versatile. Wear it as is for sports and suntanning, then add a perky matching bolero for street wear. Especially vivid in a tropical green or red, you might make several in various colors, mixing and matching for different occasions. Every garment made at home means more money saved for War Bonds. A suitable pattern may be obtained at your local store.

Rat Control

In closely populated districts rat control must be a community concern. Even in rural areas rats travel from one farm to another.

Banana Market

Together, the United States and Canada ordinarily consume about three-fifths of the total banana crop of 100 million stems per year; with the British Isles the next most important buyer, and the Scandinavian countries and Central and Southern Europe as secondary markets. Also a relatively small but increasing percentage of the crop is being shipped southward into the temperate countries of South America.

Obituaries

Anna Lemm

Anna Lemm, nee Moews, was born July 14, 1872, at Stolp, Pomern, Germany, where she received her education and was confirmed and was married to Mr. Frederich Lemm in 1895. Mr. Lemm passed away in 1916.

In 1934 she came to the United States with her granddaughter, Aneliese Wille and made their home in Chicago. For the past 5 years she has made her home with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Berger Smith and granddaughter, Aneliese Wille in Ela Township, near Fairfield, Ill.

Mrs. Lemm passed away Wednesday, December 27, at the age of 72 years, 5 months and 13 days. She leaves to mourn her departure her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Berger Smith and granddaughter, Aneliese Wille.

Services were held Saturday afternoon, December 30, at 2:00 p. m. at Karstens Funeral Home, Arlington Heights. Interment was in Randhill cemetery.

Alexander Wohlert

Alexander Wohlert of Central road, Arlington Heights, passed away at his home Sunday evening, December 31, at the age of 61 years 11 months and 16 days.

Mr. Wohlert was born January 15, 1883, at Libau, Russia and at the age of 26 years migrated to the United States and made his home in New York, Chicago, and for the past 15 years at Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Frieda Wohlert, first wife of Mr. Alexander Wohlert preceded her husband in death in 1938. In 1939 Mr. Wohlert went for a visit to his former home in Europe and there married his present wife "Charlotte" whom he brought back home with him.

He leaves to mourn his departure his loving wife "Charlotte."

Funeral services were held at his residence on Central road, Arlington Heights Wednesday afternoon, January 3.

Idell Tesch

Miss Idell Tesch, 1450 Kensington road, Arlington Heights, passed away early Saturday morning, Dec. 30, at St. Joseph's hospital Chicago. Funeral services were in the city with interment in the famlot in Hillside cemetery, Palatine.

Miss Tesch resided with her mother, Mrs. Constance Tesch, and her sister, Mrs. Irene Tesch, in Arlington Heights the last 2½ years. She was a telephone supervisor a number of years giving up her position a year ago because of illness. In addition to the above, she leaves a sister, Mrs. Lillian Duensing, Maywood and a brother, Howard Owen in Chicago. She was born Sept. 3, 1906.

CARD OF THANKS

Our recent sad loss leaves us with grateful hearts toward neighbors and friends. Their comforting expressions of sympathy and thoughtfulness will always be remembered.

Mrs. August Holtz and Family.

Wheat for Layers

Hens will lay well if wheat is used as the only grain in the scratch feed, say poultry specialists of the Pennsylvania State college. If enough vitamin A is supplied in other feeds, ground wheat can replace the scarce corn in the mash.

Stock market

The rails will show the greatest decline during 1945, because the airplane and shipbuilding stocks are already pretty much deflated.

The heavy chemicals, steels and motors may hold their own during 1945; but consumer goods will do much better.

The safest stocks to buy—considering value, income and safety—will be the merchandising stocks, especially the chain store stocks.

1944 saw a large increase in the demand for peace stocks with a decline in war stocks; but 1945 will witness them both moving more or less together. Switching has been over-done in most cases.

1945 will continue to witness creeping inflation, although the big movement toward inflation will not take place until the next business depression which will follow the postwar prosperity.

Bonds

Though bank loan rates should continue to have an upward tendency, interest rates in general will remain low through 1945, since the money supply is now 20 percent above normal and government controls will continue.

Anticipating the expected decline in Federal taxes, 1945 should surely see a falling off in the price of most municipal and probably other tax-exempt bonds.

The highest grade corporation bonds will decline during 1945.

Investors will give much more attention to diversification and staggered bond maturities during 1945.

More public utilities will be taken over by municipalities and "Authorities" during 1945.

Real estate

Suburban real estate will be in much greater demand with higher prices during 1945.

City real estate should hold its own, excepting in the congested war areas where declines may set in.

Small productive farms will continue to increase in price; but large farms may sell for less in 1945 than in 1944.

Building will show a considerable increase. Contracts will be up 25 percent, but prices may be a little lower due to increases in lumber and cement production.

There will be no changes in residential rents during 1945.

Real estate will be helped by Congress ceasing to induct any more men into the armed services after June 30, 1945.

Politics and peace

The uncertain political factor of 1945 will be Mr. Roosevelt. People will soon fear that he may resign before the next Congressional Elections either on account of ill health or to become head of a Peace Commission or new World Organization.

Our foreign headaches will become worse and more frequent during 1945. What we are going through to reorganize Italy, will be repeated in many other countries.

The Latin American honeymoon has passed its peak. The attitude of Argentina will extend to other countries and our South American troubles will increase during 1945.

1945 will see more religious interest, including more church-going, than did 1944. People gradually are realizing that without a Spiritual Awakening no peace or other plans will be much good. Nations cannot be depended upon to cooperate and stick to their agreements unless they recognize God as their real Ruler and Guide.

Animal Pest Control

Many domestic animals become unthrifty and do not gain in weight or produce products profitably because they are infested with external or internal parasites. Such animals are wasters of feed and do not pay adequately for labor and investments devoted to them. Internal and external parasites are invariably more prevalent in the wintertime, because of closer confinement, and cause the greatest feed and revenue loss at this time when feed costs are higher. Animal pest control will save valuable feed now.

Post of Valor

Marines at "point" position walk in advance of their patrol. Their duty is to give warning of the presence of an enemy and to fire on all hostile elements within effective range. These heroic fatalists often sacrifice their lives detecting snipers and Jap jungle traps.

Deep Lake

Lake Pend Oreille in northern Idaho, upon which Farragut Naval Training station is located, if drained, would leave a chasm deeper than the Grand canyon.

Headache is a symptom

by C. W. LUSSMAN of Sieburg Pharmacy

No one ever has "just a headache." Somewhere in his or her system, hidden to all but a qualified physician, there is a cause, a reason, for the ache. And it's a physical disability that only a doctor can correctly diagnose, prescribe and remedy and thus save the sufferer from more serious complications.

Perhaps no human ailment is so frequently neglected as are headaches, nor so unsuccessfully self-treated. Even occasional headaches should serve as a warning that something is wrong with the functioning of the organic structure, and should result in a visit to the doctor's office for advice.

Then the choice of a druggist to fill the prescription should be a careful one.

Credit Pub. Serv. for encouraging victory gardens

For its outstanding record in the encouraging of Victory gardens and home food preservation during the 1944 season, the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois has been awarded the 1944 Victory Garden Plaque, highest honor of the National Victory Garden Institute.

The awarding of the plaque, which was based on number of company and home gardens, size of company plots, acreage, pounds of food grown, cost of operation and advertising support, will take place at the Blackstone Hotel in Chicago on January 11 when Lester J. Norris, chairman of the Institute, will present the award to Britton I. Budd, company president.

More than 2,000 company employes—approximately one-half of the entire personnel—planted and harvested Victory gardens on company plots, neighborhood vacant lots and in back yards under the company's 1944 garden program which was directed by Arthur F. Senior.

Industrial Center

Buenos Aires contains about one-third of Argentina's more than 50,000 industrial plants. Meat packing, centered in the capital and carried on by British, American and Argentine interests, has become the country's leading industry. It is a natural outgrowth of the strikingly favorable conditions for cattle and sheep raising, plus the development of refrigeration, which revolutionized the industry by making it possible to export formerly perishable animal products.

For a gelatin salad with a rich fruity base, use unflavored gelatin and luscious whole fruit nectar as the liquid ingredient. Either apricot, pear, plum or peach whole fruit nectar gives delectable taste and palatability.

There are no fragments so precious as those of time, and none so heedlessly lost by people who cannot make a moment, and yet can waste years.

Keeping one's teeth in tip-top condition is a day in and day out task in which everyone should take pride, not only for appearances sake but also as a valuable aid to general good health.

Proper diet, skilled dental treatment when it is needed, and daily cleaning by approved methods combine to keep teeth healthy and sparkling. When a tooth is "on the wane", it destroys the charm of a smile and creates a doorway for disease germs of all types to enter the body.

Regularity of inspection by your dentist is as vital to good teeth as first aid treatment of an injury. Unlike other body tissue, parts of the teeth which decay will not replace themselves as a cut in the skin will heal. Parents should inaugurate the responsibility of correct tooth care in their children at an early age so that they may enjoy good dental health throughout life.

Widely accepted rules on proper care of the teeth are:

1. Clean the teeth at least twice a day—after each meal, if possible.
2. Eat a nourishing diet daily. You can't "eat things good for you" two or three times a week and expect such a gesture to protect your teeth or general body well-being.
3. Visit your dentist at an interval he specifies, and follow his advice implicitly on any care for your individual benefit he may suggest.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Christian Science" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 31.

The Golden Text was, "The prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost" (II Peter 1: 21).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Bow down thine ear, and hear the words of the wise, and apply thine heart unto my knowledge . . . Have not I written to thee excellent things in counsels and knowledge, that I might make thee know the certainty of the words of truth; that thou mightest answer the words of truth to them that send unto thee?" (Prov. 22: 17, 20, 21).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The author has not compromised conscience to suit the general drift of thought, but has bluntly and honestly given the text of Truth. She has made no effort to embellish, elaborate, or treat in full detail so infinite a theme. By thousands of well-authenticated cases of healing, she and her students have proved the worth of her teachings . . . Through Christian Science, religion and medicine are inspired with a diviner nature and essence; fresh pinions are given to faith and understanding, and thoughts acquaint themselves intelligently with God" (pp. Pref. x, 107).

Diamond Rise

South Africa's diamond rise began in 1867 with the discovery of deposits along the Orange river. For many years mines in that region produced about 90 per cent of the world's supply. African competition developed in the Belgian Congo, the Gold Coast, Angola, Sierra Leone, South-West Africa, and Tanganyika.

Relish Tray

Sunday night suppers taste exceptionally palatable when a relish tray is one of the menu attractions. Ripe olives, sliced onions in vinegar, spiced beets and pickled cauliflower flowerets provide a tempting selection. No expenditure of ration points either.

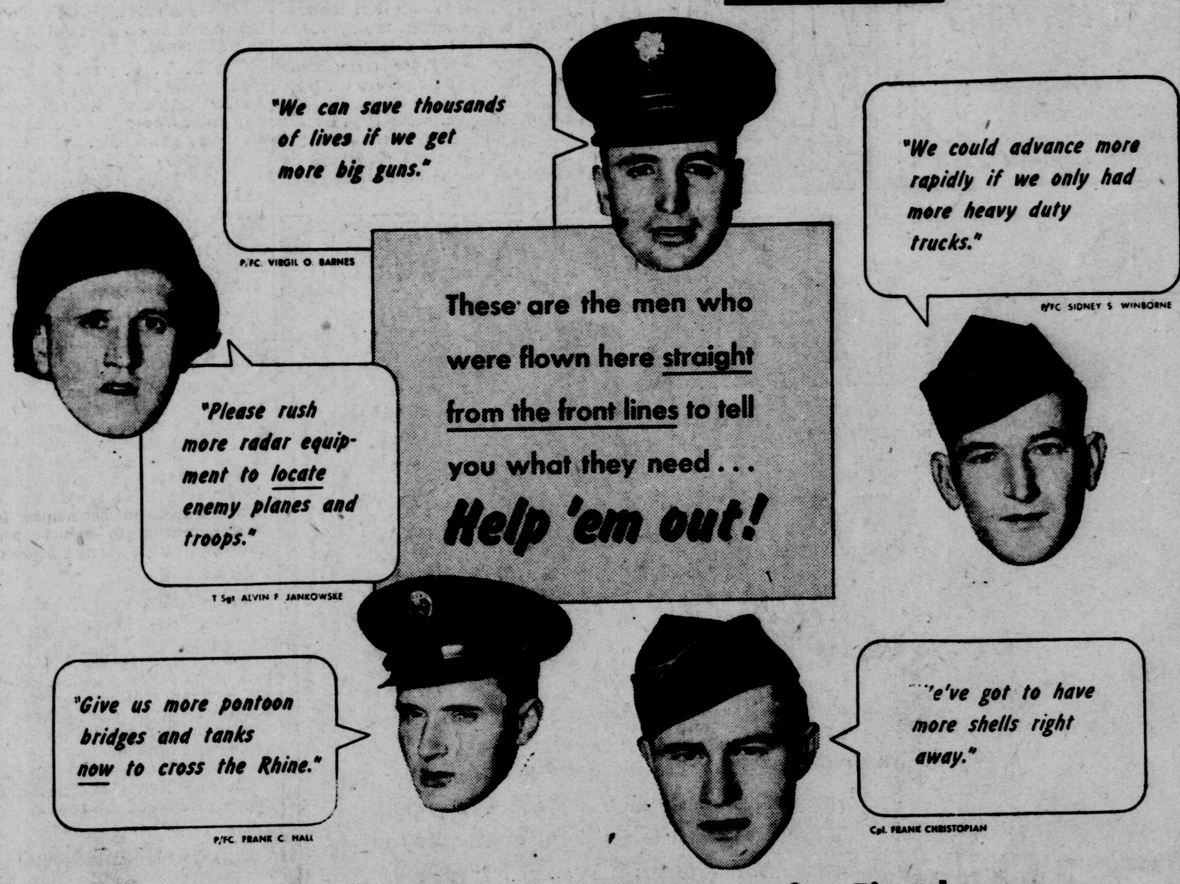
MORE WARWORKERS OR MORE WAR?



MEN! WOMEN! Provide firepower for Eisenhower

GET A WAR JOB! KEEP IT!

This is an emergency. Need for warworkers in certain key industries has suddenly increased. Our armed forces have advanced with such amazing speed—and fighting is now so intensely violent—that we have actually used up ammunition and supplies intended for use next MARCH . . . Shells are being rationed on some fronts . . . General Eisenhower states that Aachen could have been taken several days sooner, and many American lives could have been saved, if we had had more shells.

Other materials and equipment—such as tanks, jeeps, big guns, small arms ammunition, aircraft engines—are also needed desperately.

The warworkers of this area have already done a magnificent production job. But now, more production than ever is needed.

Unfortunately, our military successes have led many people to believe our need for war production is nearly at an end. THIS IS NOT TRUE. W. P. B. has just announced that war production will probably not be cut back much more than 15% when Germany is defeated—because we will need so much firepower and equipment to defeat Japan.

Help shorten the war—get a war job and keep it. Call your nearest U. S. Employment Service office.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Christian Science" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 31.

The Golden Text was, "The prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost" (II Peter 1: 21).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Bow down thine ear, and hear the words of the wise, and apply thine heart unto my knowledge . . . Have not I written to thee excellent things in counsels and knowledge, that I might make thee know the certainty of the words of truth; that thou mightest answer the words of truth to them that send unto thee?" (Prov. 22: 17, 20, 21).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The author has not compromised conscience to suit the general drift of thought, but has bluntly and honestly given the text of Truth. She has made no effort to embellish, elaborate, or treat in full detail so infinite a theme. By thousands of well-authenticated cases of healing, she and her students have proved the worth of her teachings . . . Through Christian Science, religion and medicine are inspired with a diviner nature and essence; fresh pinions are given to faith and understanding, and thoughts acquaint themselves intelligently with God" (pp. Pref. x, 107).

Keeping one's teeth in tip-top condition is a day in and day out task in which everyone should take pride, not only for appearances sake but also as a valuable aid to general good health.

Proper diet, skilled dental treatment when it is needed, and daily cleaning by approved methods combine to keep teeth healthy and sparkling. When a tooth is "on the wane", it destroys the charm of a smile and creates a doorway for disease germs of all types to enter the body.

Regularity of inspection by your dentist is as vital to good teeth as first aid treatment of an injury. Unlike other body tissue, parts of the teeth which decay will not replace themselves as a cut in the skin will heal. Parents should inaugurate the responsibility of correct tooth care in their children at an early age so that they may enjoy good dental health throughout life.

Widely accepted rules on proper care of the teeth are:

1. Clean the teeth at least twice a day—after each meal, if possible.
2. Eat a nourishing diet daily. You can't "eat things good for you" two or three times a week and expect such a gesture to protect your teeth or general body well-being.
3. Visit your dentist at an interval he specifies, and follow his advice implicitly on any care for your individual benefit he may suggest.

Diamond Rise

South Africa's diamond rise began in 1867 with the discovery of deposits along the Orange river. For many years mines in that region produced about 90 per cent of the world's supply. African competition developed in the Belgian Congo, the Gold Coast, Angola, Sierra Leone, South-West Africa, and Tanganyika.

Sunday night suppers taste exceptionally palatable when a relish tray is one of the menu attractions. Ripe olives, sliced onions in vinegar, spiced beets and pickled cauliflower flowerets provide a tempting selection. No expenditure of ration points either.

MORE WARWORKERS OR MORE WAR?

MEN! WOMEN! Provide firepower for Eisenhower

GET A WAR JOB! KEEP IT!

This is an emergency. Need for warworkers in certain key industries has suddenly increased. Our armed forces have advanced with such amazing speed—and fighting is now so intensely violent—that we have actually used up ammunition and supplies intended for use next MARCH . . . Shells are being rationed on some fronts . . . General Eisenhower states that Aachen could have been taken several days sooner, and many American lives could have been saved, if we had had more shells.

Other materials and equipment—such as tanks, jeeps, big guns, small arms ammunition, aircraft engines—are also needed desperately.

The warworkers of this area have already done a magnificent production job. But now, more production than ever is needed.

Unfortunately, our military successes have led many people to believe our need for war production is nearly at an end. THIS IS NOT TRUE. W. P. B. has just announced that war production will probably not be cut back much more than 15% when Germany is defeated—because we will need so much firepower and equipment to defeat Japan.

Help shorten the war—get a war job and keep it. Call your nearest U. S. Employment Service office.

It Happened Here

YOUTHFUL FLYERS

Youthful flyers in outermost space
Look upon death and see His face
Who in the tumult of war's alarms
Places beneath them eternal arms;
Arms everlasting, mighty and sure,
Earth's foundations not more secure.
Like as a father He pitieth them,
Their youthful frailties doth not condemn.
Like as a father He saith to each one,
It is I, fear not, my son, my son.

It is a white Christmas morning, new fallen snow a-glitter with diamond points, stars watching; there is a song in the air like the singing of sled runners on crisp snow and the jingling of sleigh bells; there is also the clop-clop of the milkman's horse and the gay lantern swinging from the rear of the wagon and casting a rosy reflection on the snow; feet crunch on the back steps and the milkman swings his lantern across our window as a greeting . . . The street car had its quota of passengers and an unidentified one, one that cried and might be a baby or a cat, no one could tell which. Necks were craned and heads turned in the direction of the sounds but the mystery remained until a young man leaning over whispering to his seatmate, "There's a kitty in that case the soldier is carrying and every time she cries the soldier gets redder and redder." No wonder, and how unkind of pussy to give him away.

Fireplace Heating

When using wood in a fireplace, place a back log on the floor of the hearth between the back wall and the andirons. This prevents the draft from drawing the fire into the masonry and wasting heat. Ashes should be kept on a level with the andirons. Don't use green wood since it deposits creosote and soot in the chimney, thereby increasing the fire danger. And if you must use green wood, use it only on hot fires, since then the gases will be consumed by the flame rather than go up the chimney.

Bananas Long Known

The Chinese literature of 3,000 years ago mentioned bananas. In 327 B. C., Alexander the Great found bananas growing in the valley of the Indus in India. Later, history records the crop's further journey westward to East Africa, then to the Holy Land and northern Egypt. In 1482 the Portuguese found the fruit growing along the African west coast, where the natives gave it the name "banana." At the time Columbus sailed on his voyage of discovery the banana was growing abundantly in the Canary Islands.

Aid Natives

Navy armed guard seamen who have returned from delivering the goods to the back door of Russia explained how the army has licked the native labor problem. The natives in Persian ports can't read or write and it's their job to assemble the jeeps, tanks, and guns. The army sergeants who supervise the work have painted the nuts and bolts different colors. Thus all the native laborers have to do is to match a green bolt with a green nut or fit a red part into another red part. The natives may be illiterate, but they certainly aren't colorblind.

It Happened Here

YOUTHFUL FLYERS

Youthful flyers in outermost space
Look upon death and see His face
Who in the tumult of war's alarms
Places beneath them eternal arms;
Arms everlasting, mighty and sure,
Earth's foundations not more secure.
Like as a father He pitieth them,
Their youthful frailties doth not condemn.
Like as a father He saith to each one,
It is I, fear not, my son, my son.

It is a white Christmas morning, new fallen snow a-glitter with diamond points, stars watching; there is a song in the air like the singing of sled runners on crisp snow and the jingling of sleigh bells; there is also the clop-clop of the milkman's horse and the gay lantern swinging from the rear of the wagon and casting a rosy reflection on the snow; feet crunch on the back steps and the milkman swings his lantern across our window as a greeting . . . The street car had its quota of passengers and an unidentified one, one that cried and might be a baby or a cat, no one could tell which. Necks were craned and heads turned in the direction of the sounds but the mystery remained until a young man leaning over whispering to his seatmate, "There's a kitty in that case the soldier is carrying and every time she cries the soldier gets redder and redder." No wonder, and how unkind of pussy to give him away.

—S'AMUSER.

Saturday afternoon when the crew was making a flying switch on the P. L. Z. & W. the engine and tender took separate leads resulting in a wreck. The North Western wrecker was called and worked all evening before the wreck was cleared up.

Fireplace Heating

When using wood in a fireplace, place a back log on the floor of the hearth between the back wall and the andirons. This prevents the draft from drawing the fire into the masonry and wasting heat. Ashes should be kept on a level with the andirons. Don't use green wood since it deposits creosote and soot in the chimney, thereby increasing the fire danger. And if you must use green wood, use it only on hot fires, since then the gases will be consumed by the flame rather than go up the chimney.

"I NEVER THOUGHT CONSERVING COAL COULD BE SUCH A PLEASURE !"

Just Around the Corner

Dear Elly:

Indeed I should love to write to you every two weeks! Rob is all for it, too. He says anything that will help to keep my toll calls under control is bound to be a good thing (the old meanie).

It really was the "white Christmas" we've all been "dreaming about", wasn't it? We did so enjoy reading about your Day and gifts. Is that really an honest-to-goodness flute that you found in the stocking? I've always loved the flute. It's supposed to be a most difficult instrument to play well. Dorothy's Paul owns a most magnificent one and, until he went into service, studied with one of the fine flutists of the Chicago Symphony. Last year we gave George a bugle. I can assure you, your choice of a flute is much wiser!

We seem to have been book-givers and receivers this year. Perhaps, you'd like to know the titles of the ones I can think of at the moment:

Plowman's Folly, by Edward H. Faulker (you won't need two guesses to know I gave that to Rob).

Scout to Explorer, by Paul Siple.

Timeless Mexico, by Hudson Strode.

The Way of Life, according to Laotzu, by Witter Bynner.

Tracks and Trails, by Leonard Rossell.

World's Great Plays, by Aristophanes, Goethe, Rustand, Ibsen, Chekhov, O'Neill and O'Casey.

Tad Lincoln and The Green Umbrella, by Margaret Friskey.

Two copies of A Picture Dictionary for Children, by Watters and Courtis.

Spy Stories, by several well-known "Who Done It" authors.

Favorite Hymns, beautifully illustrated by Tengren. (I think I bought the book for the pictures, they're so lovely!)

Speaking of books, did you see our favorite Edith Lovejoy Pierce did a really poetic review for the Daily News the other night on current prose? Her choice of words is something out of this world, I do believe, as for instance in describing Rolfe Humphrie's "The Summer Landscape" . . . "In spite of its gracefulness it has a dark, heavy, latent-thunder quality. It reaches for philosophy but never quite resolves its yearnings; they hang in a wistfully suspended music." Don't you love that?

By all means do not fail to quote from Mrs. Maude Parker's old cook book in your next letter. "Advice to a Young Wife" should certainly prove interesting. Yes, I do have some Danish recipes scattered here and there, but Elly, they would never do for war-time use. You know the Danes have a reputation for good food, and all their recipes call for butter and plenty of it. But, just for fun, I'll send you an example one of these days.

Tell Gladys and Ann "hello" for me when you next see them. And, if you can spare the gas, do come out here before the holidays are over. I promise all of you a ride in the little red sleigh.

With every good wish for a happier New Year for all of us in 1945!

Fondly,
Mary.

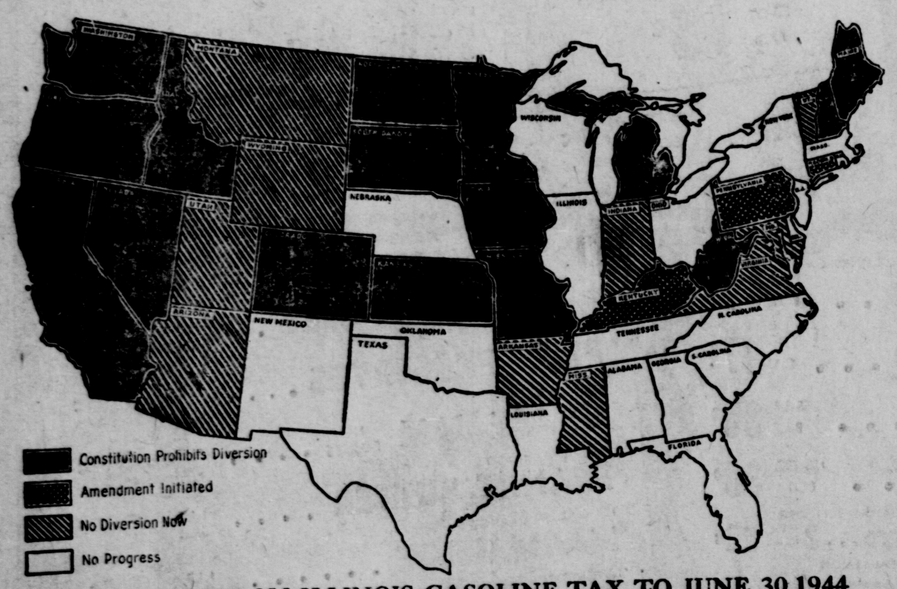
PROGRESS IN PROTECTING HIGHWAY TAX FUNDS



DIVERSION FROM ILLINOIS GASOLINE TAX TO JUNE 30,1944

Diverted To Relief Bonds	$41,651,977
Diverted To Schools	$22,298,485
Future Estimated Diversions to 1955	$27,038,000

A campaign to halt diversion in Illinois was launched recently in Chicago, when J. H. Braun, general counsel, Chicago Motor club, was elected chairman of the Illinois Good Roads federation. The map shows the diversion picture generally and the 16 states that have corrected the short-comings in their constitutions by adopting constitutional amendments prohibiting diversion of road funds and earmarking automotive taxes for roads. The Illinois Good Roads federation proposes a similar constitutional safeguard for Illinois.

Crystallized Carbon

A diamond is just a chunk of crystallized carbon—a cousin to common coal—so hard that it will cut rock, glass, and steel, says the National Geographic society. The world has made "diamond cut diamond" the summation of hardness. The Greeks had a name for this quality in 327 B. C. From their adamas, "the unconquerable," the diamond got its name.

Tax Trends

A comparison of tax rates in 290 cities for 1942 and 1943, according to the Detroit Bureau of Government Research, shows that the general trend of rates is downward, with the exception of those in the larger municipalities. Cities with decreased tax rates number 152, those with increases total 87 and the remaining 51 have no change. The sample includes cities with populations ranging from 30,000 to over 1,000,000. The city, school, county, and state tax rates are combined to make the total tax rate which is used for the comparison.

Ways to Beat the Car Shortage

1. This method of getting places may bridge the gap, should your present car give out before your new one comes in.

That could happen, you know—with the four years it will take (according to auto manufacturers) to make the 16,000,000 new cars now needed. YOUR order may not be filled for several years!

But cheer up — there's a much sounder approach to the problem. Much simpler, too—

2. Keep your old car fit 'til the new one's here! Here's how: take your car to your Tydol dealer. There's life-prolonging magic in the wear-fighting products he has. There are extra miles of use, extra performance in his skilled services. And there's assurance of your trouble-free transportation in the careful attention he gives every vital part.

Be smart! Start taking advantage of the help you can get in the Tydol station . . . and start today.

Here's how your Tydol Dealer insures long, trouble-free Car life!

Crystallized Carbon

A diamond is just a chunk of crystallized carbon—a cousin to common coal—so hard that it will cut rock, glass, and steel, says the National Geographic society. The world has made "diamond cut diamond" the summation of hardness. The Greeks had a name for this quality in 327 B. C. From their adamas, "the unconquerable," the diamond got its name.

Tax Trends

A comparison of tax rates in 290 cities for 1942 and 1943, according to the Detroit Bureau of Government Research, shows that the general trend of rates is downward, with the exception of those in the larger municipalities. Cities with decreased tax rates number 152, those with increases total 87 and the remaining 51 have no change. The sample includes cities with populations ranging from 30,000 to over 1,000,000. The city, school, county, and state tax rates are combined to make the total tax rate which is used for the comparison.

Ways to Beat the Car Shortage

1. This method of getting places may bridge the gap, should your present car give out before your new one comes in.

That could happen, you know—with the four years it will take (according to auto manufacturers) to make the 16,000,000 new cars now needed. YOUR order may not be filled for several years!

But cheer up — there's a much sounder approach to the problem. Much simpler, too—

2. Keep your old car fit 'til the new one's here! Here's how: take your car to your Tydol dealer. There's life-prolonging magic in the wear-fighting products he has. There are extra miles of use, extra performance in his skilled services. And there's assurance of your trouble-free transportation in the careful attention he gives every vital part.

Be smart! Start taking advantage of the help you can get in the Tydol station . . . and start today.

Here's how your Tydol Dealer insures long, trouble-free Car life

Veedol Safety-Check Lubrication to reach every moving chassis part with 5 specialized, friction-defying lubricants. Includes a FREE inspection of the 18 vital points where breakdowns usually begin.

Tire care from A to Z —frequent inflation to maintain proper air pressure; inspection for cuts and bruises; switching to prevent one-side wear; prompt attention to weakened places. Recapping arranged before carcass becomes unusable.

Battery, radiator, fan belt and spark plug service. High quality replacements if needed. Efficient anti-freeze for winter protection, with regular checks to maintain proper strength of solution.

The Colonel gets around

Gangsters and Trib are best known by Aussies

Ronald Wessel tells of life 'down under'

Ronald Wessel of Palatine, though now in New Guinea, sends this interesting, detailed account of a Yank's impression of Australia.

"Hello to all and if this is in time Happy New Year to everyone. Your plea in the July 7th issue of the Palatine Enterprise prompted me to write once again. I started a letter to you on the anniversary of my arrival overseas but I failed to finish it, hence I threw it away.

"I have covered quite a lot of territory since entering the army. Much of the distance traveled has been over the same areas. In fact I am getting to know some waters rather well. I have been a seagoing soldier from the very start. My present duties however are entirely different from my initial training with invasion barges in the Amphibian Eng. I spent an entire summer with them in the waters around Cape Cod.

"After my furlough home I was sent to Camp Patrick Henry, Va., where we were restricted to Camp Area so I couldn't tell what that part of the country was like. I do know we got enough rain.

See Australia

"As I have made it a point to see as much of Australia as I could, I might pass on some of the impressions I have received.

"I have experienced all the seasons on the Australian continent and find they all have their good points. The majority of people never see snow, even in winter. The higher mountains have some good seasonal snow however. I found Queensland to have the most pleasant climate. I'd say it is rightly known as 'Sunny Queensland'.

How about gangsters?

"When people inquire about my hometown, I tell them that Palatine is near Chicago to help locate it. Regardless of where I'm at there is the immediate remark of the place where the gangsters come from. Most everyone knows too of Col. McCormick and his Chicago Tribune. They rather resent his slams about their war effort. From my personal experience I'd say they are doing a lot.

"This is especially noticable in food production. The majority of Aussies are city dwellers yet they manage to furnish enough food for them and us too. All the gum they make goes to the armed forces. Although there are different flavors it is all made on the order of our P. K. When we are asked by the children for gum and we give them American gum they are more than satisfied.

"The majority of movies are American made. The larger cities get the pictures shortly after their appearance in the States. We consider it's good time if it's only a few months.

"The American music is liked too. Frankie Sinatra, Harry James, etc., have followers over here. I've seen some jitterbugs among the Aussies, especially servicemen. Some of the girls are very adept at picking up the American steps. It's not very often that you see a Yank doing Australian steps.

Trains are better

"They are turning out some pretty good locomotives and railway cars now. The average train is still below our par. There doesn't seem to have been much change in freight cars, many of which are midget affairs. The larger cities have electric suburban train systems seemingly of American design. The trams and buses form a transportation problem as they practically quit running around midnight. Around that time it seems as though the sidewalks were rolled up. They are still quite strict with their 'blue laws' about the observance of Sunday.

"I spent most of my furlough over here in Melbourne. It is packed with points of interest. It is a city of spires. Most of the places I visited took me to the roof or top floor to witness the skyline. The numerus churches and cathedral spires nearly dominate the skyline.

"All over you can see numerous 'midget' vehicles. The larger ones usually carry gas producers. You can rent cars that don't have them but much petrol here to be bought is black market. Some say you have to pay about $2.50 a gallon for it.

50 cent steak—eggs

"Taxi rates were extremely high but they are coming down now. The food prices have been alright. We pay about 50c for a meal of steak and eggs. That combination is an Australian custom. Sometimes fruit is high but as a rule there is enough of it. At present cherries and peaches are prominent.

"Central heating systems in places are unusual. Electric heaters or gas fireplaces usually do the trick.

"The pubs are usually a hotel establishment. In most places the pubs are packed during the hours they are open. They seem to run out during those few hours. A lot of the liquor is sold black market too. Now, because of the Christmas holidays, a case of beer may cost approximately twelve to fifteen dollars.

Many brides

"As in America the women vary as to types and looks. Judging from the amount of marriages the Yanks are finding what they are looking for. The army investigates before permission for marriages is granted. If everybody is willing to make allowances the Australian brides should make out alright in the U. S. As a result of these marriages and the experiences the Yanks have had, there should be an increase in post-war tourists to Australia. I, myself, in my traveling, have seen some distinctly Australian scenes worthwhile visiting. About some places I have heard comments by fellow servicemen that it reminded them of American localities.

"You probably have heard this before but it seems that we get the best treatment where there have been the fewest American servicemen. A lot, however, depends on our attitude and our behavior. For my part I got favorable treatment from the majority when learning their currency. There were some that would take advantage of our inexperience.

"At present I carry Dutch, Australian and American money. The Dutch and Australian I have so that I can use the proper currency for what ever port I'm in. The American money is purely for reminiscing. Although our ship is an ocean going ship we never see the 'States'.

Don't like New Guinea

"I haven't said anything about New Guinea as I haven't been favorably impressed. To me the farther north one goes the better it seems.

"I have rather poor mail service with packages, papers, etc. The last group of Enterprises I received had an October 8, 1943, edition and the rest were scattered issues from May to August, 1944.

"I'm afraid I've overdone it already so I'll close now hoping to get some more Enterprises soon. I'm also looking forward to all the letters I can get."

His address is Pfc. Ronald Wessel, 36665382, APO 503, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

"HOPE WE GET THOSE CHRISTMAS PACKAGES BEFORE HE GETS TO WANDERING AROUND [illegible] AGAIN"

Pacific

Photo shows Sgt. I. D. Alessi, 2805 S. Emerald ave., Chicago, all wrapped up in a letter from his sister, Mrs. Anna Mary Rose of Palatine. Sgt. Alessi, a pay clerk in the administrative headquarters of the Americal Division says, "I suspect Sis sits up half the night to write these letters but the whole family is 'on the bal' when it comes to correspondence." Overseas 34 months, the Illinois soldier is now in a combat zone and has served in Australia, New Caledonia, Guadalcanal, Fiji Islands and Bougainville. Sgt. Alessi was employed by the F. W. Woolworth Co. in Chicago.

We don't know just where Forrest Davis of Arlington Heights is located, but we're putting him in the Pacific. He was last heard from in New Guinea.

"There isn't much I can say except I have arrived at the place I thought I was coming and am in fine condition physically. Perhaps I can reveal my location later. There is action here but I cannot go into details.

"We have all the necessities but few luxuries and the folks in the States are lucky to have good pure water and some things that are scarce in some places. So far we are getting cigarettes but no fresh fruits or vegetables. I sure would pay a lot for a good dish of ice cream or a malted milk.

"I have seen a lot but expect to see plenty before the final curtain. I have not had any mail for weeks. The suicide tactics of the enemy are not exaggerated you may be sure. In fact, it is for keeps out here."

His address is F. F. Davis, SK3c, c-o FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

Philippines

After a busy month Sgt. Roger Rockenbach of Wheeling felt himself fortunate to be able to take enough time to write from a fox hole in the Philippines. Roger has been in the thick of the Philippine invasion in which some of his buddies were killed and wounded. He preferred not to say much of the fighting for there was much he was trying to forget. Even as he wrote he told of "sweating out an air raid." His mail has been coming quite regular including some packages and he hopes his friends will continue to write even though he may not be able to answer. He has sent home some shell jewelry he made, also an Australian coin locket. He recently was advanced to the rank of sergeant.

Kansas

Home on 10 days furlough from Topeka, Kansas, is Vance Folkman of Arlington Heights. Cpl. Folkman just recently completed his final phase of gunnery training on B-24s at Casper Wyoming. He was then transferred to Kansas.

Vance arrived home Monday, and leaves again next Tuesday morning. Future plans will probably include overseas duty.

Bank nets $14

Traveling bank at Arlington Heights last week netted George Svetanoff $14, bringing the bank total to 3442 $3,442. This week Arthur Kehe is driver of the traveling paycar.

Washington D. C.

Home on furlough over the holidays from Washington, D. C., was Capt. Edward "Max" Adam of Arlington Heights. Max arrived in Arlington Christmas Eve, and was scheduled to leave again this Thursday for Washington with his wife and 2 months old baby. He is stationed in Washington with the army air corps.

France

From France comes word of Bill Schoepke of Arlington Heights.

"Just a line or two to say hello and let everyone know I'm still kickin'. Nothing new over here that's for sure. Same old routine stuff. One thing different. The rainfall. Only 22 hours per day now instead of the usual 23. But it's sure to boil the other two.

"Had chance to visit Paris about 2 months ago and certainly enjoyed the most wonderful city. It's still 'gay Paree' and always will be. Some of the prettiest gals, too, with plenty of that special Paris perfume. And I'll say the Paris beer is the best in the ETO. A good match for Bud. Seems as though everything in Paris is of the best in the country. The further away from Paris, the poorer everything is in any line.

"Just a few more days before Xmas. We're preparing a small party among ourselves, with plenty of Cognac, Calvados, Brandy and what have you. Calvados has been tested for 35 degrees below in vehicle radiators up front. Pretty rough stuff. Set you on easy street shortly. Not that I know from experience, but only what I've seen. I never touch the stuff. I'll take a coke, anytime, if only it were available."

His address is Pfc. William Schoepke, 36681732, APO 562, c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

Stu Paddock of Arlington Heights writes from France. The letter was written December 14, just prior to the Nazi counter-attack.

"We have stopped for a short rest period (St. Avold). Can't tell you for how long, but the men are anxious to keep pushing, as the more we push the sooner this will be over.

"Weather has been rainy as usual, but it has been a little warmer. Took the longies off the other day.

"The Red Cross clubmobile stopped by yesterday. Three Red Cross girls gave out hot coffee and doughnuts, gum, etc. The men were glad of the opportunity to talk to the American girls.

"Met the first fellow from Heights over here. He is Roy Beese. He was promoted to sergeant a couple of days before, and was mighty proud of it, and should be. He is squad leader of a machine gun squad. Men like him are winning the war."

His address is Capt. Stuart R. Paddock, 0-353815, APO 403, c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

From France comes word of Reg Hertel of Arlington Heights.

"Recently spent a little time in Luxemburg. The people there speak a mixture of French, German and Belgian. They have a clean looking, industrious little country, and from all appearances they didn't like Nazi rule."

His address is S/Sgt. Roger E. Hertel, 36317564, APO 873, c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

There doesn't seem to have been much change in freight cars, many of which are midget affairs. The larger cities have electric suburban train systems seemingly of American design. The trams and buses form a transportation problem as they practically quit running around midnight. Around that time it seems as though the sidewalks were rolled up. They are still quite strict with their 'blue laws' about the observance of Sunday.

"I spent most of my furlough over here in Melbourne. It is packed with points of interest. It is a city of spires. Most of the places I visited took me to the roof or top floor to witness the skyline. The numerus churches and cathedral spires nearly dominate the skyline.

"All over you can see numerous 'midget' vehicles. The larger ones usually carry gas producers. You can rent cars that don't have them but much petrol here to be bought is black market. Some say you have to pay about $2.50 a gallon for it.

50 cent steak—eggs

"Taxi rates were extremely high but they are coming down now. The food prices have been alright. We pay about 50c for a meal of steak and eggs. That combination is an Australian custom. Sometimes fruit is high but as a rule there is enough of it. At present cherries and peaches are prominent.

"Central heating systems in places are unusual. Electric heaters or gas fireplaces usually do the trick.

"The pubs are usually a hotel establishment. In most places the pubs are packed during the hours they are open. They seem to run out during those few hours. A lot of the liquor is sold black market too. Now, because of the Christmas holidays, a case of beer may cost approximately twelve to fifteen dollars.

Many brides

"As in America the women vary as to types and looks. Judging from the amount of marriages the Yanks are finding what they are looking for. The army investigates before permission for marriages is granted. If everybody is willing to make allowances the Australian brides should make out alright in the U. S. As a result of these marriages and the experiences the Yanks have had, there should be an increase in post-war tourists to Australia. I, myself, in my traveling, have seen some distinctly Australian scenes worthwhile visiting. About some places I have heard comments by fellow servicemen that it reminded them of American localities.

"You probably have heard this before but it seems that we get the best treatment where there have been the fewest American servicemen. A lot, however, depends on our attitude and our behavior. For my part I got favorable treatment from the majority when learning their currency. There were some that would take advantage of our inexperience.

"At present I carry Dutch, Australian and American money. The Dutch and Australian I have so that I can use the proper currency for what ever port I'm in. The American money is purely for reminiscing. Although our ship is an ocean going ship we never see the 'States'.

Don't like New Guinea

"I haven't said anything about New Guinea as I haven't been favorably impressed. To me the farther north one goes the better it seems.

"I have rather poor mail service with packages, papers, etc. The last group of Enterprises I received had an October 8, 1943, edition and the rest were scattered issues from May to August, 1944.

"I'm afraid I've overdone it already so I'll close now hoping to get some more Enterprises soon. I'm also looking forward to all the letters I can get."

Pacific

Photo shows Sgt. I. D. Alessi, 2805 S. Emerald ave., Chicago, all wrapped up in a letter from his sister, Mrs. Anna Mary Rose of Palatine. Sgt. Alessi, a pay clerk in the administrative headquarters of the Americal Division says, "I suspect Sis sits up half the night to write these letters but the whole family is 'on the bal' when it comes to correspondence." Overseas 34 months, the Illinois soldier is now in a combat zone and has served in Australia, New Caledonia, Guadalcanal, Fiji Islands and Bougainville. Sgt. Alessi was employed by the F. W. Woolworth Co. in Chicago.

We don't know just where Forrest Davis of Arlington Heights is located, but we're putting him in the Pacific. He was last heard from in New Guinea.

"There isn't much I can say except I have arrived at the place I thought I was coming and am in fine condition physically. Perhaps I can reveal my location later. There is action here but I cannot go into details.

"We have all the necessities but few luxuries and the folks in the States are lucky to have good pure water and some things that are scarce in some places. So far we are getting cigarettes but no fresh fruits or vegetables. I sure would pay a lot for a good dish of ice cream or a malted milk.

"I have seen a lot but expect to see plenty before the final curtain. I have not had any mail for weeks. The suicide tactics of the enemy are not exaggerated you may be sure. In fact, it is for keeps out here."

His address is F. F. Davis, SK3c, c-o FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

Philippines

After a busy month Sgt. Roger Rockenbach of Wheeling felt himself fortunate to be able to take enough time to write from a foxhole in the Philippines. Roger has been in the thick of the Philippine invasion in which some of his buddies were killed and wounded. He preferred not to say much of the fighting for there was much he was trying to forget. Even as he wrote he told of "sweating out an air raid." His mail has been coming quite regular including some packages and he hopes his friends will continue to write even though he may not be able to answer. He has sent home some shell jewelry he made, also an Australian coin locket. He recently was advanced to the rank of sergeant.

Kansas

Home on 10 days furlough from Topeka, Kansas, is Vance Folkman of Arlington Heights. Cpl. Folkman just recently completed his final phase of gunnery training on B-24s at Casper Wyoming. He was then transferred to Kansas.

Vance arrived home Monday, and leaves again next Tuesday morning. Future plans will probably include overseas duty.

Bank nets $14

Traveling bank at Arlington Heights last week netted George Svetanoff $14, bringing the bank total to 3442 $3,442. This week Arthur Kehe is driver of the traveling paycar.

Washington D. C.

Home on furlough over the holidays from Washington, D. C., was Capt. Edward "Max" Adam of Arlington Heights. Max arrived in Arlington Christmas Eve, and was scheduled to leave again this Thursday for Washington with his wife and 2 months old baby. He is stationed in Washington with the army air corps.

France

From France comes word of Bill Schoepke of Arlington Heights.

"Just a line or two to say hello and let everyone know I'm still kickin'. Nothing new over here that's for sure. Same old routine stuff. One thing different. The rainfall. Only 22 hours per day now instead of the usual 23. But it's sure to boil the other two.

"Had chance to visit Paris about 2 months ago and certainly enjoyed the most wonderful city. It's still 'gay Paree' and always will be. Some of the prettiest gals, too, with plenty of that special Paris perfume. And I'll say the Paris beer is the best in the ETO. A good match for Bud. Seems as though everything in Paris is of the best in the country. The further away from Paris, the poorer everything is in any line.

"Just a few more days before Xmas. We're preparing a small party among ourselves, with plenty of Cognac, Calvados, Brandy and what have you. Calvados has been tested for 35 degrees below in vehicle radiators up front. Pretty rough stuff. Set you on easy street shortly. Not that I know from experience, but only what I've seen. I never touch the stuff. I'll take a coke, anytime, if only it were available."

His address is Pfc. William Schoepke, 36681732, APO 562, c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

Stu Paddock of Arlington Heights writes from France. The letter was written December 14, just prior to the Nazi counter-attack.

"We have stopped for a short rest period (St. Avold). Can't tell you for how long, but the men are anxious to keep pushing, as the more we push the sooner this will be over.

"Weather has been rainy as usual, but it has been a little warmer. Took the longies off the other day.

"The Red Cross clubmobile stopped by yesterday. Three Red Cross girls gave out hot coffee and doughnuts, gum, etc. The men were glad of the opportunity to talk to the American girls.

"Met the first fellow from Heights over here. He is Roy Beese. He was promoted to sergeant a couple of days before, and was mighty proud of it, and should be. He is squad leader of a machine gun squad. Men like him are winning the war."

His address is Capt. Stuart R. Paddock, 0-353815, APO 403, c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

From France comes word of Rog Hertel of Arlington Heights.

"Recently spent a little time in Luxemburg. The people there speak a mixture of French, German and Belgian. They have a clean looking, industrious little country, and from all appearances they didn't like Nazi rule."

His address is S/Sgt. Roger E. Hertel, 36317564, APO 873, c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

MAC SAYS:

BY GERALD A. McELROY

This is the end of the year 1944 but not the end of a school sports year. Still we like to look back and see what the schools of this area did in the year 1944. In the Northwest Conference Bensenville, the largest, and Ela, next to the smallest, dominated the sports scene.

Bisons took track title

Bensenville won the track championship last spring to end Palatine's three year reign. The Bisons also won the Palatine Relays in class "B". Bensenville had a small group of fine point getters headed by George Kernats. Others were Anderson, Bowman, Corrado, Hall, Venere, Marden, Garland and Ernsting. It was the first time that Coach J. C. Trapp's boys had won the big relay meet and their third conference track title.

Meneguin coaches grid champs

Bensenville made it two championships in 1944 by taking the football trophy this past fall in a close race. Schoppe, Ernsting, and Miller were given all conference recognition.

The Bisons were a close second to Ela's undefeated league champs in basketball last winter losing only to Ela in a 10 game schedule. The Bisons' five was made up of Kernats, Benham, Schoppe, Standard, and Schloman. Kernats and Benham rated all-conference.

Ela has grand slam in basketball

Ela made a grand slam of varsity basketball. After winning the holiday tournament just before the start of 1944 the Bears coached by H. L. Wesner carried on to finish the league season undefeated and went through the district tournament for their third trophy by beating Barrington in the final. Ela had a rangy well balanced team made up of Rudy, Holland, J. Ladd, N. Ladd, Hapke and Busa. The Ladd brothers at center and guard and Rudy at forward were given all-conference rating by the Cook County Herald. Ela also won the basketball championship behind the pitching of big Jim Ladd.

Fourth cage trophy in 13 months

And last week Ela won their fourth basketball trophy in 13 months by winning their second straight Christmas holiday tournament at Wauconda. All indications point to Ela carrying on to another league championship as well with a sextet of boys named Norman Ladd, Irving Hapke, Kenneth Grever, Herman Grever, Vanover, and Waite. Ela is at present undefeated in the conference, being the only school with that standing in varsity basketball. Barrington is well on their way to a second straight lightweight championship.

Lightweight basketball honors were taken by Barrington with but one defeat to mar their record handed them by Palatine. Barrington also was the best in the league in Frosh-Soph track.

Lake Forest undefeated in Northeast football

The Northeast conference did not officially operate except during the past football season in which Lake Forest won an undefeated and undisputed championship. Coach Lindenmeyer had a great team featured by the superlative line play of such boys as Swanson, DePauw, Lynch, Conover, French, Evans, Hall, Ericksen and Jones. The scouts had a good backfield though small, made up of Barker, Baruffi, McGovern, and Ryan.

Lake Forest won two titles

Coach Lindenmeyer of Lake Forest was the only double winner in the Northeast. Last spring his Scouts won the Palatine Relays in class A and also won the Northeast invitational meet held at Lake Forest. So it was track and football for Lake Forest last year.

Trojans and Wildcats have best records

In basketball there was no official schedule and only a few schools played representative schedules. Niles who beat Libertyville twice during the season probably had the best team as Libertyville in turn beat Crystal Lake for one of their two defeats of the year. However at tournament time Libertyville whipped the Niles Trojans. Most of Niles playing was confined to the big Suburban league where they had unusual success in games with New Trier Highland Park, Evanston, and Waukegan, defeating 3 of the 4.

Joyner's Cards stops in baseball

Arlington Heights lost only one baseball game to win the unofficial title in that sport. Coach Joyner's team had good pitching from Bokelman and Robinson and a very fine fielding team. Four Northeast schools played baseball including Arlington, Niles, Leyden and Warren.

Right now it looks like Crystal Lake in the varsity division and Arlington Heights in the JV are way ahead of the class of the rest of the Northeast basketball teams but each still has eight games to go.

Our picks this week

In the Northwest the picks are pretty easy with only one close game coming up and that at Palatine where the home court advantage should give the Pirates the edge over Antioch whom they beat 35-34 for third in the league tourney last Saturday. Bensenville at home should handle Grant o. k. if ailing Ernsting and Neumann are in shape. This pair of big boys were ill a week straight before the tournament and spoiled our predictions about the Bisons. Barrington will toy with a crippled Wauconda five and Ela's all round class will be too much for a much strengthened Northbrook team. In every case the favorite is playing at home.

In the Northeast Crystal Lake can take a full two game lead on the field by beating Arlington Heights which they will do by about 10 points. Woodstock will nose out Lake Forest, Libertyville will stop Niles by about six points and Leyden at home will best Warren by five points.

They do it again

Ela plays consistent ball to cop Northwest tournament

Palatine takes third place in Antioch win

by G. A. McELROY

Ela played the more consistent basketball and defeated Barrington 31-27 in the finals of the Northwest Conference Holiday tournament at Wauconda Saturday night. Palatine took third place trophy by beating Antioch 35-34.

Four Barrington players each scored a field goal and a free throw in the opening quarter as the Bronchos surged into an early 12-7 lead over the favored Ela team but the best they could do was two free throws in the second quarter and trailed the champs 17-14 at the half. Norman Ladd, high scorer of the game with 14 points, got eight in the first half to lead the rally which eventually won the game.

Barrington had a good third quarter as Ralph Gaulke hit twice and tied the count at 23 all starting the final eight minutes. Ela held the cold shooting Bronchos without a point during the first six minutes of the last quarter while building up a margin of 29-23. The Bronchos substituted 12 times in the last 55 seconds of the game to save a lot of time and narrowed the final margin as a result.

Rollin Gaulke, who had been a scoring leader for Barrington in other games was way off in his shooting as were other Bronchos. However Ela's cool deliberate playing led by Norman Ladd dominated the game after the surprise rush of the Bronchos in the opening period. The Grever brothers at center and forward contributed 11 points as a vital factor in Ela's victory.

Except for a brief period in the first quarter Palatine was in front all the way in the consolation game but had a close call at the finish as Antioch scored six baskets in the last quarter and 2 of them in the final minute to give Palatine a bad scare. Hapke's free throw with a minute to play proved to be the winning point.

Palatine led 10-8 at the quarter, 20-18 at the half, and 29-22 going into the last quarter. Roger Smith tallied 14 and Clarence Vogt got 15 for Palatine. Smith made 11 points in the first half and Vogt got nine in the second half. Vogt missed his first eight tries from the field but later hit five straight times. Palatine made 13 baskets in 48 shots and nine out of 11 free throws. The difference in free throwing ability won the game for Palatine. Nielsen and Trieger each shot four field goals from guard position for Antioch. Good scored the last two baskets to make the game a one pointer.

The same two teams meet at Palatine Friday night in a Northwest Conference game.

Tourney sidelights...

Ela's poise and coolness when the going was tough stood out . . . Norman Ladd of Ela and Jack Flock of Barrington were far and away the smoothest performers in the tournament and the conference. They have real class . . . Tough luck in the pinch was the rate of Rollin Gaulke, the small boy of the Gaulke twin duo, who sparked the team in their first two tourney games, and then flopped in his shooting in the finals. Had Rollin hit in average style Barrington would have won but he was certainly in there trying . . . Record substituting was done by Coach Graham of Barrington who had Emerson and Wendt replacing each other in the lineup 12 times in the last minute. This strategy more than doubled the remaining playing time and helped Barrington score twice . . . Best streak without fouling was by Antioch who played the first 12 minuutes of their game with Palatine without a foul . . . Best free throwing was Palatine's nine out of 11 in their one point victory over Antioch for third place.

Poorest sportsmanship was by Hapke and Waite of Ela in the final who walked down the floor in front of their opponents laughing in their face and poking fun at them as the Ela lads went down court to shoot free throws after being fouled. Apparently it got the desired results as Barrington had failed to score a field goal in the quarter in which these tactics were practiced. This sort of thing does not appeal to us win or lose . . . Best performance under handicap was that by Louis Nielsen, Antioch's star guard, who played with his left hand in a cast. He has played six games since breaking it and he certainly does all right. We picked him all-tourney guard . . . Compliments to the tournament committee on having three trophies instead of one. Made a lot more boys happy considering the small added cost . . . Worst flop was Bensenville but Ernsting and Neuman had plenty of what it takes to even try to play after days in bed.

Fewer close games than anticipated but the two games on final night left little to be desired . . . Big crowds attended the tournament and it was a real financial success . . . Tournament manager stated he preferred a 14 game home and home conference schedule and no tournament. Can hardly blame him . . . Officiating was of high class and got better every session. The boys and the fans have lots of confidence in Al Grosche and Mike Rose . . . Came to conclusion that Ela will not lose again this year to a Northwest Conference team. Pretty strong statement but they have proved themselves with us. . . . Four years we have been at war and Coach Kroll of Antioch still has to haul his boys on an A gas ration book. No success yet in getting gas from the Libertyville ration board for hauling his athletes. Only coach in the state we know of that is handicapped that way. . . . Teams playing with fewest seniors: Antioch, Barrington, and Palatine.

The Tigers of Crystal Lake, coached by Art Njaa were far and away the class of the tournament and no one seriously threatened their reign as champs. Crystal Lake's lineup of Hayden, Reddersdorf, Schroeder, Timm and Legel is the same as last season. In the final game Reddersdorf led the scorers with 15 points. Schroeder had 11 and Hayden 10. Miller with 11 and Murphy with 10 were high for McHenry.

Hogberg and Howell each had eight points at Woodstock as seven players aided the Blue and White in victory over the St. Marys team which had previously beaten Larry Dale's cagers.

Tigers favorites in NE race

Arlington Heights opens play after the Christmas holidays Friday night at Crystal Lake against the undefeated Tigers who are favorites to finish that way in the Northeast conference. Crystal Lake also has one of the leading lightweight teams in the loop, having been beaten only by Niles who currently is tied for first place with the Arlington green clad junior varsity.

The Arlington lightweights, whose scoring has been led by Wille and Busse, have annexed 10 straight victories to date for one of the finest records in Arlington history. Coach Joyner has found it possible to use from 14 to 20 boys in every game and the green tornados have not had a close game in the 10 contests. Teams beaten are Maine, Kelly, Ela, Palatine, Woodstock, Libertyville Bensenville, Leyden, Barrington and Warren.

The Cardinal varsity has a good record of six victories and three defeats. They have beaten Barrington, Bensenville Ela, the three Northwest conference leaders and have Palatine, another tough one, to play a week from Caturday. The Cards have beaten Warren, Libertyville, and Leyden in the Northeast and have lost to Woodstock by one point. In outside games the Cards were beaten by Maine of the West Suburban league and Kelly of Chicago.

Chuck Page is setting the scoring pace at Arlington on a team in which point getting is quite well distributed. Page has averaged a little better than six points a game. Hamburg and Botterman are next in line. Free throwing is one department in which Coach Armand Seidler is having a headache for the Card regulars are noticeably far off the 50 per cent mark in free throws which is considered average. Fast pass work, good ball handling, fair shooting, speed, and improved man for man defensive work has featured Arlington's playing to date.

Pirates were not hitting the first three quarters except from the free throw line and never had a lead of more than five points. When the pressure was off in the closing minutes they hit consistently. Grant led only once by 18-16 in the third period but Palatine soon forged ahead 22-19 at the end of the quarter. The Pirates were in front 12-9 at the first quarter and 16-14 at the half. Vogt scored nine points. Kinsch played well at guard. Thompson was Grant's outstanding performer.

Ela used th... regulars only 13 minutes of the game in handing Wauconda a very bad beating. Minus three tall regulars due to illness, absence, and breaking of training rules Wauconda had a lineup of which the tallest man was little over five eight. As a result they trailed 16-3 at the quarter and 25-7 at the half. Gerald Harvey parted the nets for 13 points for high honors for Wauconda. H. Grever and Ladd scored nine apiece for the rangy Ela team.

Palatine 38
Grant 22

Palatine pulled away in the final quarter to whip Grant 33-22. The again the alert ball club which started the season with seven straight victories.

Ronald Gaulke scored 10 and Flock and Ralph Gaulke each tallied nine points for Barrington. Webb with nine held up Bensenville but had little help. Only Webb and Rands at guards showed any of the expected playing form which had given the Bisons a rating of tournament favorite. Both Ernsting and Neuman had been ill the past week and were in no shape for varsity ball. With the tall boys off their game the Bisons were very mediocre.

Ela 47
Wauconda 20

Antioch 38
Northbrook 34

Antioch led Northbrook just about all the way to win the opening tournament game 38-34. The Sequoits were slipping fast however in the last quarter when Northbrook rallied to within two points and could have gone ahead but for the cold shooting at close range. Trieger, Antioch guard, did some sensational shooting to loop in six field goals and a free throw for high scoring honors of the evening. Williams with nine, Dahlberg with 10, and Brown with 11 did most all of the Northbrook scoring.

Barrington 35
Bensenville 24

A very far below par Bensenville team was far behind all the way as Barrington's Bronchos handed the Bisons an unexpected 35-24 trimming. The Bisons were poor on their shots and pass work and were never in the game as Barrington held leads of 5-0, 15-9, and 27-15 at the quarters. After two straight defeats by Palatine and Arlington the Bronchos were

LOOKING TOWARD SUMMER

A FEW YEARS AGO those of us who were staying home gave scarcely a thought to fashions for the South. Now we know that there's no better break than the resort season for choosing the nucleus of next Summer's wardrobe. Wartime has taught everyone to shop the quickest and most satisfactory way by picking up a pretty dress, or even a smart swim suit, when first it's fashion news, and when everyone else isn't madly hunting just about the same sort of thing.

—Photos courtesy New York Dress Institute

A glance at today's beach fashions—the brief shirt-tail coat and the exciting diaper bathing suit in Everfast's unique Gibson Girl stripes—will give you an idea of what New York's leading designers are showing for sunny California, Florida and all points South. You can bare your arms or your legs, your back or your midriff by simply removing a short, separate bolero or skirt.

Fortunately for those of us who like to launder our own Summer wardrobes, cottons are even more important this year than last. Naturally, lots of New York designers are using our own color-fast, sturdy domestic cottons, and many of them are also using the vivid Guatemalan stripes and plaids in everything from play clothes to afternoon dresses.

The crisply tailored street or travel suit for South and Summer is this year made up in several fabrics which look and feel like linen, and wash just as beautifully. These are mixtures of cotton and spun rayon, or linen-like weaves of rayon in plain colors and in black. A change for office wear is the bright gingham or poplin suit to wear with or without a blouse, as inexpensive as it is cool.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

"There are probably still some G.I.'s who would not give their last cigarette or blanket to Ernie Pyle. But nothing that any G.I. can scrounge from another is too good for him." This glowing tribute to one of our top war correspondents was recently paid by Time Magazine, and from all we hear Ernie Pyle more than deserves it.

ERNIE PYLE

His book on the African campaign, "Here Is Your War," sold over a million copies, all told. His new book, "Brave Men," which covers the war from the Sicilian campaign to the liberation of Paris, is the Book-of-the-Month Club selection for December. A special feature of "Brave Men": the author lists every service man with whom he talked and the name of his home town.

Ernie Pyle hates war, everything about it except the men who are fighting it. He tells about it in all its grimmest aspects: the thousands of dead on the Normandy beach-head—and among the litter and debris, thousands of sheets of blank letter paper, on which the men had planned to write home about their first visit to France. He tells innumerable heroic exploits; among his "brave men" was the wounded English flier, pinioned for eight days under his plane, whose first remark to his rescuers was an apology for the trouble he was causing them.

But there was one glorious moment: "I had thought that for me there could never again be any elation in war, but I had reckoned without the liberation of Paris. . . . The streets of Paris are very wide and they were packed on each side. . . . The women were all brightly dressed in white or red blouses and colorful peasant skirts. . . . Everybody was throwing flowers."

Ernie Pyle says he didn't hear any classic remarks when the American troops entered France, such as the famous "Lafayette, we are here," of the last war. The nearest to it was made by an ack-ack gunner, sitting on a mound of earth about two weeks after D-Day, reading the "Stars and Stripes." All of a sudden, he said, "Say, where's this Normandy beach-head it talks about in here?" Pyle realized he was serious and he told him, "You're sitting on it." The gunner looked up in surprise, "Well, I'll be damned. I never knowed that," he said.

MAC SAYS:

BY GERALD A. McELROY

This is the end of the year 1944 but not the end of a school sports year. Still we like to look back and see what the schools of this area did in the year 1944. In the Northwest Conference Bensenville, the largest, and Ela, next to the smallest, dominated the sports scene.

Bisons took track title

Bensenville won the track championship last spring to end Palatine's three year reign. The Bisons also won the Palatine Relays in class "B". Bensenville had a small group of fine point getters headed by George Kernats. Others were Anderson, Bowman, Corrado, Hall, Venere, Marden, Garland and Ernsting. It was the first time that Coach J. C. Trapp's boys had won the big relay meet and their third conference track title.

Meneguin coaches grid champs

Bensenville made it two championships in 1944 by taking the football trophy this past fall in a close race. Schoppe, Ernsting, and Miller were given all conference recognition.

The Bisons were a close second to Ela's undefeated league champs in basketball last winter losing only to Ela in a 10 game schedule. The Bisons' five was made up of Kernats, Benham, Schoppe, Standard, and Schloman. Kernats and Benham rated all-conference.

Ela has grand slam in basketball

Ela made a grand slam of varsity basketball. After winning the holiday tournament just before the start of 1944 the Bears coached by H. L. Wesner carried on to finish the league season undefeated and went through the district tournament for their third trophy by beating Barrington in the final. Ela had a rangy well balanced team made up of Rudy, Holland, J. Ladd, N. Ladd, Hapke and Busa. The Ladd brothers at center and guard and Rudy at forward were given all-conference rating by the Cook County Herald. Ela also won the basketball championship behind the pitching of big Jim Ladd.

Fourth cage trophy in 13 months

And last week Ela won their fourth basketball trophy in 13 months by winning their second straight Christmas holiday tournament at Wauconda. All indications point to Ela carrying on to another league championship as well with a sextet of boys named Norman Ladd, Irving Hapke, Kenneth Grever, Herman Grever, Vanover, and Waite. Ela is at present undefeated in the conference, being the only school with that standing in varsity basketball. Barrington is well on their way to a second straight lightweight championship.

Lightweight basketball honors were taken by Barrington with but one defeat to mar their record handed them by Palatine. Barrington also was the best in the league in Frosh-Soph track.

Lake Forest undefeated in Northeast football

The Northeast conference did not officially operate except during the past football season in which Lake Forest won an undefeated and undisputed championship. Coach Lindenmeyer had a great team featured by the superlative line play of such boys as Swanson, DePauw, Lynch, Conover, French, Evans, Hall, Ericksen and Jones. The scouts had a good backfield though small, made up of Barker, Baruffi, McGovern, and Ryan.

Lake Forest won two titles

Coach Lindenmeyer of Lake Forest was the only double winner in the Northeast. Last spring his Scouts won the Palatine Relays in class A and also won the Northeast invitational meet held at Lake Forest. So it was track and football for Lake Forest last year.

Trojans and Wildcats have best records

In basketball there was no official schedule and only a few schools played representative schedules. Niles who beat Libertyville twice during the season probably had the best team as Libertyville in turn beat Crystal Lake for one of their two defeats of the year. However at tournament time Libertyville whipped the Niles Trojans. Most of Niles playing was confined to the big Suburban league where they had unusual success in games with New Trier Highland Park, Evanston, and Waukegan, defeating 3 of the 4.

Joyner's Cards stops in baseball

Arlington Heights lost only one baseball game to win the unofficial title in that sport. Coach Joyner's team had good pitching from Bokelman and Robinson and a very fine fielding team. Four Northeast schools played baseball including Arlington, Niles, Leyden and Warren.

Right now it looks like Crystal Lake in the varsity division and Arlington Heights in the JV are way ahead of the class of the rest of the Northeast basketball teams but each still has eight games to go.

Our picks this week

In the Northwest the picks are pretty easy with only one close game coming up and that at Palatine where the home court advantage should give the Pirates the edge over Antioch whom they beat 35-34 for third in the league tourney last Saturday. Bensenville at home should handle Grant o. k. if ailing Ernsting and Neumann are in shape. This pair of big boys were ill a week straight before the tournament and spoiled our predictions about the Bisons. Barrington will toy with a crippled Wauconda five and Ela's all round class will be too much for a much strengthened Northbrook team. In every case the favorite is playing at home.

In the Northeast Crystal Lake can take a full two game lead on the field by beating Arlington Heights which they will do by about 10 points. Woodstock will nose out Lake Forest, Libertyville will stop Niles by about six points and Leyden at home will best Warren by five points.

They do it again

Ela plays consistent ball to cop Northwest tournament

Palatine takes third place in Antioch win

by G. A. McELROY

Ela played the more consistent basketball and defeated Barrington 31-27 in the finals of the Northwest Conference Holiday tournament at Wauconda Saturday night. Palatine took third place trophy by beating Antioch 35-34.

Four Barrington players each scored a field goal and a free throw in the opening quarter as the Bronchos surged into an early 12-7 lead over the favored Ela team but the best they could do was two free throws in the second quarter and trailed the champs 17-14 at the half. Norman Ladd, high scorer of the game with 14 points, got eight in the first half to lead the rally which eventually won the game.

Barrington had a good third quarter as Ralph Gaulke hit twice and tied the count at 23 all starting the final eight minutes. Ela held the cold shooting Bronchos without a point during the first six minutes of the last quarter while building up a margin of 29-23. The Bronchos substituted 12 times in the last 55 seconds of the game to save a lot of time and narrowed the final margin as a result.

Rollin Gaulke, who had been a scoring leader for Barrington in other games was way off in his shooting as were other Bronchos. However Ela's cool deliberate playing led by Norman Ladd dominated the game after the surprise rush of the Bronchos in the opening period. The Grever brothers at center and forward contributed 11 points as a vital factor in Ela's victory.

Except for a brief period in the first quarter Palatine was in front all the way in the consolation game but had a close call at the finish as Antioch scored six baskets in the last quarter and 2 of them in the final minute to give Palatine a bad scare. Hapke's free throw with a minute to play proved to be the winning point.

Palatine led 10-8 at the quarter, 20-18 at the half, and 29-22 going into the last quarter. Roger Smith tallied 14 and Clarence Vogt got 15 for Palatine. Smith made 11 points in the first half and Vogt got nine in the second half. Vogt missed his first eight tries from the field but later hit five straight times. Palatine made 13 baskets in 48 shots and nine out of 11 free throws. The difference in free throwing ability won the game for Palatine. Nielsen and Trieger each shot four field goals from guard position for Antioch. Good scored the last two baskets to make the game a one pointer.

The same two teams meet at Palatine Friday night in a Northwest Conference game.

Tourney sidelights...

Ela's poise and coolness when the going was tough stood out . . . Norman Ladd of Ela and Jack Flock of Barrington were far and away the smoothest performers in the tournament and the conference. They have real class . . . Tough luck in the pinch was the rate of Rollin Gaulke, the small boy of the Gaulke twin duo, who sparked the team in their first two tourney games, and then flopped in his shooting in the finals. Had Rollin hit in average style Barrington would have won but he was certainly in there trying . . . Record substituting was done by Coach Graham of Barrington who had Emerson and Wendt replacing each other in the lineup 12 times in the last minute. This strategy more than doubled the remaining playing time and helped Barrington score twice . . . Best streak without fouling was by Antioch who played the first 12 minuutes of their game with Palatine without a foul . . . Best free throwing was Palatine's nine out of 11 in their one point victory over Antioch for third place.

Poorest sportsmanship was by Hapke and Waite of Ela in the final who walked down the floor in front of their opponents laughing in their face and poking fun at them as the Ela lads went down court to shoot free throws after being fouled. Apparently it got the desired results as Barrington had failed to score a field goal in the quarter in which these tactics were practiced. This sort of thing does not appeal to us win or lose . . . Best performance under handicap was that by Louis Nielsen, Antioch's star guard, who played with his left hand in a cast. He has played six games since breaking it and he certainly does all right. We picked him all-tourney guard . . . Compliments to the tournament committee on having three trophies instead of one. Made a lot more boys happy considering the small added cost . . . Worst flop was Bensenville but Ernsting and Neuman had plenty of what it takes to even try to play after days in bed.

Fewer close games than anticipated but the two games on final night left little to be desired . . . Big crowds attended the tournament and it was a real financial success . . . Tournament manager stated he preferred a 14 game home and home conference schedule and no tournament. Can hardly blame him . . . Officiating was of nigh class and got better every session. The boys and the fans have lots of confidence in Al Grosche and Mike Rose . . . Came to conclusion that Ela will not lose again this year to a Northwest Conference team. Pretty strong statement but they have proved themselves with us. . . . Four years we have been at war and Coach Kroll of Antioch still has to haul his boys on an A gas ration book. No success yet in getting gas from the Libertyville ration board for hauling his athletes. Only coach in the state we know of that is handicapped that way. . . . Teams playing with fewest seniors: Antioch, Barrington, and Palatine.

Crystal Lake won their second straight McHenry county basketball championship by defeating McHenry 52-37 in the finals at Woodstock Saturday night. Woodstock salvaged third by whipping St. Marys 32-20.

The Tigers of Crystal Lake, coached by Art Njaa were far and away the class of the tournament and no one seriously threatened their reign as champs. Crystal Lake's lineup of Hayden, Reddersdorf, Schroeder, Timm and Legel is the same as last season. In the final game Reddersdorf led the scorers with 15 points. Schroeder had 11 and Hayden 10. Miller with 11 and Murphy with 10 were high for McHenry.

Hogberg and Howell each had eight points at Woodstock as seven players aided the Blue and White in victory over the St. Marys team which had previously beaten Larry Dale's cagers.

Vinland?

At Newport, R. I., stands a stone tower so old that some antiquarians claim that Leif Ericson's Norsemen may have built it. Newport may have been the "Vinland" of 1040 A. D.

Moderate Heat

Use moderate heat when cooking eggs so as not to toughen the protein.

Tigers favorites in NE race

Arlington Heights opens play after the Christmas holidays Friday night at Crystal Lake against the undefeated Tigers who are favorites to finish that way in the Northeast conference. Crystal Lake also has one of the leading lightweight teams in the loop, having been beaten only by Niles who currently is tied for first place with the Arlington green clad junior varsity.

The Arlington lightweights, whose scoring has been led by Wille and Busse, have annexed 10 straight victories to date for one of the finest records in Arlington history. Coach Joyner has found it possible to use from 14 to 20 boys in every game and the green tornados have not had a close game in the 10 contests. Teams beaten are Maine, Kelly, Ela, Palatine, Woodstock, Libertyville Bensenville, Leyden, Barrington and Warren.

The Cardinal varsity has a good record of six victories and three defeats. They have beaten Barrington, Bensenville Ela, the three Northwest conference leaders and have Palatine, another tough one, to play a week from Caturday. The Cards have beaten Warren, Libertyville, and Leyden in the Northeast and have lost to Woodstock by one point. In outside games the Cards were beaten by Maine of the West Suburban league and Kelly of Chicago.

Chuck Page is setting the scoring pace at Arlington on a team in which point getting is quite well distributed. Page has averaged a little better than six points a game. Hamburg and Botterman are next in line. Free throwing is one department in which Coach Armand Seidler is having a headache for the Card regulars are noticeably far off the 50 per cent mark in free throws which is considered average. Fast pass work, good ball handling, fair shooting, speed, and improved man for man defensive work has featured Arlington's playing to date.

Pirates were not hitting the first three quartere except from the free throw line and never had a lead of more than five points. When the pressure was off in the closing minutes they hit consistently. Grant led only once by 18-16 in the third period but Palatine soon forged ahead 22-19 at the end of the quarter. The Pirates were in front 12-9 at the first quarter and 16-14 at the half. Vogt scored nine points. Kinsch played well at guard. Thompson was Grant's outstanding performer.

Palatine pulled away in the final quarter to whip Grant 33-22.

again the alert ball club which started the season with seven straight victories.

Ronald Gaulke scored 10 and Flock and Ralph Gaulke each tallied nine points for Barrington. Webb with nine held up Bensenville but had little help. Only Webb and Rands at guards showed any of the expected playing form which had given the Bisons a rating of tournament favorite. Both Ernsting and Neuman had been ill the past week and were in no shape for varsity ball. With the tall boys off their game the Bisons were very mediocre.

Ela 47
Wauconda 20

Ela used th... ...gulars only 13 minutes of the game in handing Wauconda a very bad beating. Minus three tall regulars due to illness, absence, and breaking of training rules Wauconda had a lineup of which the tallest man was little over five eight. As a result they trailed 16-3 at the quarter and 25-7 at the half. Gerald Harvey parted the nets for 13 points for high honors for Wauconda. H. Grever and Ladd scored nine apiece for the rangy Ela team.

Palatine 38
Grant 22

Antioch 38
Northbrook 34

Antioch led Northbrook just about all the way to win the opening tournament game 38-34. The Sequoits were slipping fast however in the last quarter when Northbrook rallied to within two points and could have gone ahead but for the cold shooting at close range. Trieger, Antioch guard, did some sensational shooting to loop in six field goals and a free throw for high scoring honors of the evening. Williams with nine, Dahlberg with 10, and Brown with 11 did most all of the Northbrook scoring.

Barrington 35
Bensenville 24

A very far below par Bensenville team was far behind all the way as Barrington's Bronchos handed the Bisons an unexpected 35-24 trimming. The Bisons were poor on their shots and pass work and were never in the game as Barrington held leads of 5-0, 15-9, and 27-15 at the quarters. After two straight defeats by Palatine and Arlington the Bronchos were

LOOKING TOWARD SUMMER

A FEW YEARS AGO those of us who were staying home gave scarcely a thought to fashions for the South. Now we know that there's no better break than the resort season for choosing the nucleus of next Summer's wardrobe. Wartime has taught everyone to shop the quickest and most satisfactory way by picking up a pretty dress, or even a smart swim suit, when first it's fashion news, and when everyone else isn't madly hunting just about the same sort of thing.

A glance at today's beach fashions—the brief shirt-tail coat and the exciting diaper bathing suit in Everfast's unique Gibson Girl stripes—will give you an idea of what New York's leading designers are showing for sunny California, Florida and all points South. You can bare your arms or your legs, your back or your midriff by simply removing a short, separate bolero or skirt.

Fortunately for those of us who like to launder our own Summer wardrobes, cottons are even more important this year than last. Naturally, lots of New York designers are using our own color-fast, sturdy domestic cottons, and many of them are also using the vivid Guatemalan stripes and plaids in everything from play clothes to afternoon dresses.

The crisply tailored street or travel suit for South and Summer is this year made up in several fabrics which look and feel like linen, and wash just as beautifully. These are mixtures of cotton and spun rayon, or linen-like weaves of rayon in plain colors and in black. A change for office wear is the bright gingham or poplin suit to wear with or without a blouse, as inexpensive as it is cool.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

"There are probably still some G.I.'s who would not give their last cigarette or blanket to Ernie Pyle. But nothing that any G.I. can scrounge from another is too good for him." This glowing tribute to one of our top war correspondents was recently paid by Time Magazine, and from all we hear Ernie Pyle more than deserves it.

ERNIE PYLE

His book on the African campaign, "Here Is Your War," sold over a million copies, all told. His new book, "Brave Men," which covers the war from the Sicilian campaign to the liberation of Paris, is the Book-of-the-Month Club selection for December. A special feature of "Brave Men": the author lists every service man with whom he talked and the name of his home town.

Ernie Pyle hates war, everything about it except the men who are fighting it. He tells about it in all its grimmest aspects: the thousands of dead on the Normandy beach-head—and among the litter and debris, thousands of sheets of blank letter paper, on which the men had planned to write home about their first visit to France. He tells innumerable heroic exploits; among his "brave men" was the wounded English flier, pinioned for eight days under his plane, whose first remark to his rescuers was an apology for the trouble he was causing them.

But there was one glorious moment: "I had thought that for me there could never again be any elation in war, but I had reckoned without the liberation of Paris. . . . The streets of Paris are very wide and they were packed on each side. . . . The women were all brightly dressed in white or red blouses and colorful peasant skirts. . . . Everybody was throwing flowers."

Ernie Pyle says he didn't hear any classic remarks when the American troops entered France, such as the famous "Lafayette, we are here," of the last war. The nearest to it was made by an ack-ack gunner, sitting on a mound of earth about two weeks after D-Day, reading the "Stars and Stripes." All of a sudden, he said, "Say, where's this Normandy beach-head it talks about in here?" Pyle realized he was serious and he told him, "You're sitting on it." The gunner looked up in surprise, "Well, I'll be damned. I never knowed that," he said.

Hold mt. against Nazis

Pfc. Harvey Thompson of Arlington Heights is a member of the 350th Infantry Regiment, which recently took Mt. Battaglia in northern Italy and held it for seven days of almost continuous German counter attack and close-quarter fighting.

The 350th was ordered to occupy the mountain and reached its objective only a short time before German infantrymen apparently acted on similar orders. The 350th got there first and greeted the Germans with intense fire. It was the start of the week-long ferocious battle. Clouds hugged the mountain top, concealing advancing Germans until they were within a few yards of the defenders, and much of the fighting was done at a range of 50 yards. Six Germans were killed within the castle that marks the peak of the mountain.

Attacking two or three times daily, the Germans were supported by intense, accurate concentrations of artillery fire. In three morning and one evening attacks they used flamethrowers. One counter-attack temporarily denied the crest to the 350th, but the doughboys regained the dominant ground and continued to hold it.

It rained continuously, and automatic weapons were repeatedly choked with mud. These were cleaned with all manner of improvised devices. Later, as the dense artillery concentrations on the 350th's mule-borne supplies on the approaches became highly effective, the defenders relied heavily on the weapons and ammunition of the fallen. There were many of them. When a heavy machine-gun section dwindled to four men, not enough to carry the guns and ammunition, one of the survivors ran back 1,000 yards to the rear, gathered 19 replacements and returned to form a new platoon.

Heavy weapons companies fired light machine guns, rifle company weapons, from the crest to build up an impenetrable curtain of rapid small arms fire to fend off the swarming attackers.

One member of the 350th, unidentified, stood up on the crest to get an extraordinary field of fire down the slope, killed 24 Germans with an automatic rifle and two others with hand grenades.

Almost the entire siege was fought at range permitting the use of hand grenades by both sides.

Italy

As a member of a Corsican based B-25 Mitchell bomb group which has carried out continuous attacks in support of the Fifth and Eighth armies in northern Italy, Sergeant Peter P. Michelau has been awarded a Bronze Battle Star for his units participation in the Rome-Arno phase of the Italian campaign.

His sister, Mrs. Arthur Clesen, resides at Mt. Prospect.

The new battle star is the fourth to be won by the Mt. Prospect serviceman in the Mediterranean area. It will be worn on his European-African-Middle-East campaign ribbon.

His group now holds the Air Force record for bombing accuracy. The B-25s have averaged better than nine bombs in the target area out of every 10 dropped during the past three months of sustained combat operations.

Georgia

Cpl. Peter Armato, RFD No. 1 Roselle, recently was promoted to the rank of Corporal at Chatham Field, Ga.

Cpl. Armato is a nose gunner and crew member of a B-24 Liberator at the base, which is a training unit of the First Air Force, located near Savannah, Ga.

Prior to entering the army May 24, 1944, Cpl. Armato was employed as a mechanic. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Armato who reside in Roselle.

World movie premiere on Saipan

Saipan

From Saipan comes word of Anthony Scolaro of Arlington Heights.

"It has been a long time since I have read an Arlington Herald and much longer since last writing to you. The routine affairs connected with the squadron have kept my time very well tied up, for in addition to being the assistant operations officer I also have been tagged with the Special Services Duties.

"This latter duty, while taking up a large part of my time, however, gives me a chance to do a little good for our enlisted men as well as the officers. I have seen to it that we have a stage and we have been getting some very good stage productions in addition to the latest and best pictures. Last night we had the picture, 'When Irish Eyes Are Smiling' and the week before we were privileged to see the world's premiere showing of 'Rhapsody in Blue'.

"In addition thereto I have also organized two softball teams, one for our officers and one for the enlisted men. I have put both teams in a large league in this section. My officers team, so far, lead their own section of the league.

"Let me tell you of a humorous (to me anyhow) incident which happened here one day. We had moved around on this island from area to area like a pack of gypsies, until one day they decided to give us a permanent area. We finally moved into it. Nobody bothered to dig foxholes as the Japs had been quiet for a long time and everyone figured that we would not be bothered with them.

"Then one day an intelligence bulletin came through with the recommendation that we build foxholes as an air raid was expected at any time. In the early morning the C. O. called me into his office and instructed me to see that foxholes were built before the day was over. I posted a notice to the effect that all personnel would be required to dig their own foxholes beginning at 12:45. There was much grumbling at this from both officers and men.

"Well, so help me, at approximately 12:15 we had our first daylight air raid in over two and one-half months. It was a thrilling sight—about ten Jap bombers flew low over the island, strafing and dropping a few bombs. Not much damage was done, but none of the Jap ships got away.

"I believe anyone would have paid plenty to have seen those boys scurry. Before the Japs were all shot down the fellows had their foxholes halfway finished. I didn't have to push anyone to see that they built their foxholes. The next day we had a softball game and another daylight air raid, but the boys kept right on playing ball and time was automatically called whenever a Jap was shot down so that both sides and the spectators could cheer like hell. The American soldier sure knows how to make himself at home under any condition.

"In the last six months I have seen just three fellows from around home. First saw Orson A. Rau, then Ferdinand Weidner, then Lt. Breiter of Bensenville. I met him while we were both in Oahu on a rest leave. There is another fellow, Cpl. Moeller of Wheeling, not more than about two miles from here whom as yet I haven't had time to look up. Went to Hollandia last week, but didn't get to see any of the fellows I knew down there. In about ten days I expect to make a trip to the Philippine Islands. Don't expect to be there more than three or four days however, thank goodness for

"By the way, I would like to take this opportunity of thanking the Lions club and the many other good people of Arlington who so thoughtfully sent me Christmas packages. In all I received 102 Christmas gifts. The boys in the squadron sure had some time in helping me consume all the good things to eat that were in the packages."

His address is Lt. A. T. Scolaro, 0-579168, APO 244, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Attends school in New Guinea

From New Guinea comes word of Roy Niemeyer of Arlington Heights. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Niemever.

"I've been in quite a few interesting places since leaving Oahu. Some of these include Tarawa, Guadalcanal and Biak. However, this place is a little more permanent than the aforementioned and yet it is only temporary for us as we are students in the CRTC combat replacement training center of the far eastern FEAF air forces as you can gather from the address on the envelope.

"Just used up that last tablet of stationery. It was donated by the Red Cross upon leaving the States along with soap, razor blades, pencil, gum, life savers, shoe strings, pocket handbook, sewing kit and envelopes in a little sack. Stationery is hard to get out here so I gotta use what I have. A few other scarce or unpresent things are liquor, women, milk and candy. The first two I can pass up but fresh milk sure would taste good.

No women

"I rather like it here, it's a great experience. The days are nice and hot and the nights are always cool, even though we are situated practically on the equator. There are natives nearby and they are quite interesting. All the males wear is skirts around their hips (haven't seen any women yet). The kids always bum stuff like gum, cigarettes or money. They are lazy and have almost every type of disease known. They can talk broken English and are even hired as laborers by the army, and the Australian army especially.

"Over here we drive on the wrong side of the road and have pounds, florins, sixpence and such money instead of dollars and cents. A pound is $3.20 in our money.

Hunt cocoanuts

"We don't do much around here. Go to classes and while away the rest of the time. We have gone cocoanut hunting in the jungles and went swimming in the ocean twenty-seven miles from here. Some fruits we found are cocoanuts, papayas, bananas and tomatoes. Papayas are almost as big and taste like cantaloupes. The tomatoes just like ours but are the size of our cherries.

"We take atabrine pills to prevent and cure some types of malaria. Also have mosquito nets for our cots to prevent the Anopheles mosquitoes from biting. Malaria is practically obsolete with the splendid malaria control program established.

"It's almost 9:30 p. m. and this is the latest I've been up out here. We have a homemade table and bench in our wooden floor tent and a 40 watt electric bulb for illumination.

"Today we had some G. I. who has a washmachine do our laundry for $3.00, a big barracks bag full. Four of us put ours together so it was only 75c a piece and we didn't have to do our own as we expected."

His address is F-0 Roy Niemeyer, 16104709, APO 713-ICRTC, San Francisco, Calif.

With Uncle Sam

Philippines

Bill Millay of Arlington Heights writes from the Philippines. He is a crew member on an L. C. T.

"Have received but one Christmas package and only a few letters, but now that I am established here, I expect the rest of the packages and a batch of letters will catch up with me soon. Our ship has credit for a Jap plane.

"Things really happen here in a hurry. Saw three Jap planes crash in a couple of minutes. It really scared us at first, but not so much anymore. These raids are sure a pain. Every time we sit down to eat comes an alert. The Air Corps is doing a fine job over here. You can't imagine how wonderful it is to see our boys up there.

"Rains here most of the time. Certainly is an improvement to see some decent looking natives. They stand very straight and don't have those large stomachs like the natives of New Guinea."

His address is William J. Millay, F1c, c-o Fleet PO, San Francisco, Calif.

West Coast

Donald Meyer EM2c of Arlington Heights, left December 28 on the Challenger for the west coast. He had been stationed in the radio and sound division at Great Lakes for the past 26 months.

Philippines

A service battery of a field artillery battalion rarely comes in direct contact with the enemy beyond dodging an occasional sniper while bringing up supplies but five members of a 96th division service battery took a break from the more routine duties and bagged five Japs in the Philippines.

Informed of the presence of Japs by a Filipino version of Paul Revere, an excited native woman who came slogging up to the battery area astride a clumsy water buffalo, Lt. John McCarthy, Washington, D. C. and Warrant Officer Vaugh O. Stevens, Devil's Slide, Utah, set out immediately with a twelve man patrol, the first patrol that any of the men had undertaken. An hour later they bagged three Japs near a small stream a mile away.

Staff Sergeant Lawrence M. Forney, Kearney, Neb., and Pvt. James R. Bagby, Kansas City, Mo. shot another Jap on the run while the fifth was killed by Cpl. Joe P. Rutkowski, Arlington Heights, who spotted the Jap sitting on the ground.

Great Lakes

Home on leave after completing boot training at Great Lakes is Rolland Prest of Arlington Heights. Rolland arrived home last week Wednesday and reports back to the Lakes January 5.

Hold mt. against Nazis

Pfc. Harvey Thompson of Arlington Heights is a member of the 350th Infantry Regiment, which recently took Mt. Battaglia in northern Italy and held it for seven days of almost continuous German counter attack and close-quarter fighting.

The 350th was ordered to occupy the mountain and reached its objective only a short time before German infantrymen apparently acted on similar orders. The 350th got there first and greeted the Germans with intense fire. It was the start of the week-long ferocious battle. Clouds hugged the mountain top, concealing advancing Germans until they were within a few yards of the defenders, and much of the fighting was done at a range of 50 yards. Six Germans were killed within the castle that marks the peak of the mountain.

Attacking two or three times daily, the Germans were supported by intense, accurate concentrations of artillery fire. In three morning and one evening attacks they used flamethrowers. One counter-attack temporarily denied the crest to the 350th, but the doughboys regained the dominant ground and continued to hold it.

It rained continuously, and automatic weapons were repeatedly choked with mud. These were cleaned with all manner of improvised devices. Later, as the dense artillery concentrations on the 350th's mule-borne supplies on the approaches became highly effective, the defenders relied heavily on the weapons and ammunition of the fallen. There were many of them. When a heavy machine-gun section dwindled to four men, not enough to carry the guns and ammunition, one of the survivors ran back 1,000 yards to the rear, gathered 19 replacements and returned to form a new platoon.

Heavy weapons companies fired light machine guns, rifle company weapons, from the crest to build up an impenetrable curtain of rapid small arms fire to fend off the swarming attackers.

One member of the 350th, unidentified, stood up on the crest to get an extraordinary field of fire down the slope, killed 24 Germans with an automatic rifle and two others with hand grenades.

Almost the entire siege was fought at range permitting the use of hand grenades by both sides.

Italy

As a member of a Corsican based B-25 Mitchell bomb group which has carried out continuous attacks in support of the Fifth and Eighth armies in northern Italy, Sergeant Peter P. Michelau has been awarded a Bronze Battle Star for his units participation in the Rome-Arno phase of the Italian campaign.

His sister, Mrs. Arthur Clesen, resides at Mt. Prospect.

The new battle star is the fourth to be won by the Mt. Prospect serviceman in the Mediterranean area. It will be worn on his European-African-Middle-East campaign ribbon.

His group now holds the Air Force record for bombing accuracy. The B-25s have averaged better than nine bombs in the target area out of every 10 dropped during the past three months of sustained combat operations.

Georgia

Cpl. Peter Armato, RFD No. 1 Roselle, recently was promoted to the rank of Corporal at Chatham Field, Ga.

Cpl. Armato is a nose gunner and crew member of a B-24 Liberator at the base, which is a training unit of the First Air Force, located near Savannah, Ga.

Prior to entering the army May 24, 1944, Cpl. Armato was employed as a mechanic. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Armato who reside in Roselle.

World movie premiere on Saipan

Saipan

From Saipan comes word of Anthony Scolaro of Arlington Heights.

"It has been a long time since I have read an Arlington Herald and much longer since last writing to you. The routine affairs connected with the squadron have kept my time very well tied up, for in addition to being the assistant operations officer I also have been tagged with the Special Services Duties.

"This latter duty, while taking up a large part of my time, however, gives me a chance to do a little good for our enlisted men as well as the officers. I have seen to it that we have a stage and we have been getting some very good stage productions in addition to the latest and best pictures. Last night we had the picture, 'When Irish Eyes Are Smiling' and the week before we were privileged to see the world's premiere showing of 'Rhapsody in Blue'.

"In addition thereto I have also organized two softball teams, one for our officers and one for the enlisted men. I have put both teams in a large league in this section. My officers team, so far, lead their own section of the league.

"Let me tell you of a humorous (to me anyhow) incident which happened here one day. We had moved around on this island from area to area like a pack of gypsies, until one day they decided to give us a permanent area. We finally moved into it. Nobody bothered to dig foxholes as the Japs had been quiet for a long time and everyone figured that we would not be bothered with them.

"Then one day an intelligence recommendation that we build foxholes as an air raid was expected at any time. In the early morning the C. O. called me into his office and instructed me to see that foxholes were built before the day was over. I posted a notice to the effect that all personnel would be required to dig their own foxholes beginning at 12:45. There was much grumbling at this from both officers and men.

"Well, so help me, at approximately 12:15 we had our first daylight air raid in over two and one-half months. It was a thrilling sight—about ten Jap bombers flew low over the island, strafing and dropping a few bombs. Not much damage was done, but none of the Jap ships got away.

"I believe anyone would have paid plenty to have seen those boys scurry. Before the Japs were all shot down the fellows had their foxholes halfway finished. I didn't have to push anyone to see that they built their foxholes. The next day we had a softball game and another daylight air raid, but the boys kept right on playing ball and time was automatically called whenever a Jap was shot down so that both sides and the spectators could cheer like hell. The American soldier sure knows how to make himself at home under any condition.

"In the last six months I have seen just three fellows from around home. First saw Orson A. Rau, then Ferdinand Weidner, then Lt. Breiter of Bensenville. I met him while we were both in Oahu on a rest leave. There is another fellow, Cpl. Moeller of Wheeling, not more than about two miles from here whom as yet I haven't had time to look up. Went to Hollandia last week, but didn't get to see any of the fellows I knew down there. In about ten days I expect to make a trip to the Philippine Islands. Don't expect to be there more than three or four days however, thank goodness for

"By the way, I would like to take this opportunity of thanking the Lions club and the many other good people of Arlington who so thoughtfully sent me Christmas packages. In all I received 102 Christmas gifts. The boys in the squadron sure had some time in helping me consume all the good things to eat that were in the packages."

His address is Lt. A. T. Scolaro, 0-579168, APO 244, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Attends school in New Guinea

From New Guinea comes word of Roy Niemeyer of Arlington Heights. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Niemeyer.

"I've been in quite a few interesting places since leaving Oahu. Some of these include Tarawa, Guadalcanal and Biak. However, this place is a little more permanent than the aforementioned and yet it is only temporary for us as we are students in the CRTC combat replacement training center of the far eastern FEAF air forces as you can gather from the address on the envelope.

"Just used up that last tablet of stationery. It was donated by the Red Cross upon leaving the States along with soap, razor blades, pencil, gum, life savers, shoe strings, pocket handbook, sewing kit and envelopes in a little sack. Stationery is hard to get out here so I gotta use what I have. A few other scarce or unpresent things are liquor, women, milk and candy. The first two I can pass up but fresh milk sure would taste good.

No women

"I rather like it here, it's a great experience. The days are nice and hot and the nights are always cool, even though we are situated practically on the equator. There are natives nearby and they are quite interesting. All the males wear is skirts around their hips (haven't seen any women yet). The kids always bum stuff like gum, cigarettes or money. They are lazy and have almost every type of disease known. They can talk broken English and are even hired as laborers by the army, and the Australian army especially.

"Over here we drive on the wrong side of the road and have pounds, florins, sixpence and such money instead of dollars and cents. A pound is $3.20 in our money.

Hunt cocoanuts

"We don't do much around here. Go to classes and while away the rest of the time. We have gone cocoanut hunting in the jungles and went swimming in the ocean twenty-seven miles from here. Some fruits we found are cocoanuts, papayas, bananas and tomatoes. Papayas are almost as big and taste like cantaloupes. The tomatoes just like ours but are the size of our cherries.

"We take atabrine pills to prevent and cure some types of malaria. Also have mosquito nets for our cots to prevent the Anopheles mosquitoes from biting. Malaria is practically obsolete with the splendid malaria control program established.

"It's almost 9:30 p. m. and this is the latest I've been up out here. We have a homemade table and bench in our wooden floor tent and a 40 watt electric bulb for illumination.

"Today we had some G. I. who has a washmachine do our laundry for $3.00, a big barracks bag full. Four of us put ours together so it was only 75c a piece and we didn't have to do our own as we expected."

His address is F-0 Roy Niemeyer, 16104709, APO 713-ICRTC, San Francisco, Calif.

With Uncle Sam

Philippines

Bill Millay of Arlington Heights writes from the Philippines. He is a crew member on an L. C. T.

"Have received but one Christmas package and only a few letters, but now that I am established here, I expect the rest of the packages and a batch of letters will catch up with me soon. Our ship has credit for a Jap plane.

"Things really happen here in a hurry. Saw three Jap planes crash in a couple of minutes. It really scared us at first, but not so much anymore. These raids are sure a pain. Every time we sit down to eat comes an alert. The Air Corps is doing a fine job over here. You can't imagine how wonderful it is to see our boys up there.

"Rains here most of the time. Certainly is an improvement to see some decent looking natives. They stand very straight and don't have those large stomachs like the natives of New Guinea."

His address is William J. Millay, F1c, c-o Fleet PO, San Francisco, Calif.

Farmers asked to aid census enumerator

Word has been received at the Cook county AAA office that immediately following the advent of the new year an agricultural census will be taken.

Carl M. Bormet, county AAA chairman, asked farmers to give the census enumerator as accurate an inventory as possible, because this data will greatly aid in administering farm programs.

"The detailed information for each farm, when totaled, gives an inventory of the nation's agricultural plant," Mr. Bormet explained. He added that from his experience in county AAA work from the early days of the Corn, Hog and Wheat programs to the present all-out production program, such agricultural data has been invaluable.

The information gathered by the Bureau of the Census is treated with the utmost confidence, Mr. Bormet added.

Soilless Gardening

Some of the coral islands now occupied by U. S. troops have no soil to support plant growth. So that men on these islands can grow food, a special kit for soilless gardening has been made up for them. It includes a canvas bucket, planting basin, seeds and chemicals.

Heavy culling of hens needed

Close culling of hens this winter is needed in order to bring egg production during the first half of 1945 in line with prospective needs. Why? The government has enough eggs on hand now to meet 1945 lend-lease requirements for dried eggs. These stocks of eggs were bought by the government in its effort to support farm egg prices in 1944. The government will again attempt to support egg prices, but with production at a high level and with a reduced demand, the task may become extremely difficult.

War food goals for 1945 call for a 16 percent decrease in egg production, but with the present number of hens on farms, production is expected to be only 8 to 12 percent lower. To meet this problem farmers are asked to cull 50 million hens between Nov., 1944 and Jan. 1, 1945. The goal for Illinois calls for the culling and marketing by March 1, 1945, of roughly one out of every four hens now on farms. This should be selective culling and not wholesale liquidation.

In addition to the problem of too many eggs, there are other reasons for culling hens. Poultry meat is in strong demand for military and civilian use. Also, it is questionable whether some hens are paying their way if costs of farm grains are considered. The present egg-feed price relationship is much less favorable than in recent years and will not improve during the first half of 1945.

Survey reveals cut in output low-cost clothes

When OPA Administrator Chester Bowles declared "price rises in clothing have been the greatest threat to the program of holding the line on the cost of living," his statement was backed by recently compiled figures of the Census Bureau and the War Production Board which have finally trapped in cold statistics the extent to which up-grading and fancying-up of items have influenced the increase in living costs.

Housewives for many months have been aware of the scarcity of lowcost work clothes for men and women and low-cost infants' and children's wear, says Miss Edna R. Gray, clothing specialist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

These recent statistics showing the quantity production in different price ranges reveal for the first time in figures the greatly reduced manufacture of low-cost items, though the total production of ready-to-wear was only slightly under that for the last half of 1943.

In the Census Bureau's report on its survey, made in cooperation with the WPB, production of clothing items during the first quarter of 1944 by price range was compared with an average production for the last half of 1943.

Production of dresses that sold at a unit price of $2.25 and under was down a little more than one-third, while production of dresses that were marked at $6.01 and up had soared to one-third more than the average for the last half of 1943.

Manufacturers turned to the production of more expensive garments because, as long as their materials were limited, they wished to produce items on which the greatest profits could be realized, and also because many people had money to buy more expensive clothing.

A look at blouse, waist and shirt production reveals the same trend. In those items which sold under $16.50 a dozen, production was off one-half that of the last half of 1943. The production of items over $22.50 a dozen was almost double that of the last half of 1943.

The Census Bureau's survey does show that production of essential items of children's clothing has been increasing in lines where WPB has issued production directives and priorities on materials.

However, a survey by the Bureau of Labor Statistics indicates that production of these items also has been directed into the higher priced lines and that less than one-half the demand for low-cost baby and children's clothing has been satisfied.

WPB attributed this continued shortage to an increased number of babies and to the fact that many babies, who in less prosperous times would have worn hand-me-downs, now have complete wardrobes of their own.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics survey estimates that three-quarters of the demand for higher priced baby clothes has been fulfilled. Serious shortages in men's cotton pajamas and business suits, boy's shorts, long pants, dress suits and cotton pajamas still exist. In two items, boys' shorts and cotton piece goods, less than one-fifth of the demand has been satisfied.

Lake-Cook services pass million mark

The Board of Directors of the Lake-Cook Farm Supply Company, in a special meeting held recently, reviewed the most successful year that the Company had ever experienced and reports that the Company did over a Million Dollar Volume in the services of Feeds, Seeds, and Petroleum Products to the farm members in the district the Company serves in Lake and Cook County, which makes them one of the outstanding farm companies in the State, in the field it serves.

Dividends of approximately $90,000.00 were voted by the Directors to be paid at the Annual Stockholder's meeting to be held in Lake Zurich on Saturday, January 20th. This huge dividend was made possible by the economical management of the Company in holding the operating expenses at the lowest figures in its history. This is, by far, the largest dividend ever paid by the Company and exceeds that of last year by $10,000.00.

The audit of the Company showed an extremely large increase in business, amounting to over a million dollars which was nearly a $200,000.00 increase over the year before. This large increase in the Company's business is attributed largely to the high quality of merchandise that has been serviced, of which Blue Seal Feeds, Lubricating Oils, and Magic Aladdin Gasoline constitute the major portion, together with the fact that the Company, due to its prestige has been able to secure necessary needs at all times for its patrons.

Remember the date of the Annual Meeting, January 20, 1945, at Lake Zurich.

Reduction of cattle numbers under way

The heavy marketing of cows, heifers and calves in 1944 indicates that a reduction in cattle numbers is under way. During the years in which cattle numbers are on the increase, the number of steers slaughtered usually exceeds the number of cows and heifers slaughtered; but when cattle numbers are being reduced, cow and heifer slaughter exceeds steer slaughter. Cattle numbers in the United States decreased from 73 million head in 1918 to 57 million head by 1928, increased to 74 million head by 1934, decreased to 65 million head by 1938, increased to an all-time high of 82 million head by January 1, 1944.

During 1944 the number of cows and heifers slaughtered under federal inspection is expected to exceed steer slaughter by 1.6 million head and for the first time since 1938. Also, a normal relationship between slaughter and numbers on farms and ranches January 1, 1944, would have resulted in a total cattle and calf slaughter of about 31½ million head in 1944, but it is now expected that total slaughter may be nearly 34 million head.

Preliminary estimates are that, compared with 1943, the 1944 federally inspected slaughter of steers will increase 8 percent; cows and heifers, 41 percent, and calves 48 percent. Most of the increase in cow and heifer slaughter has been in beef cattle and not milk animals. Consequently, it is expected that numbers of milk cows on farms January 1, 1945, will be larger than a year ago, but the number of beef cows will be smaller. Heavy marketings of both dairy and beef calves took place in 1944.

Consider number of spring pigs to raise in '45

Many Illinois hog producers will soon make their decisions as to the number of 1945 spring pigs they will attempt to raise. What are some of the factors which should be considered?

First, of course, is the question of whether there is adequate labor, equipment and feed to handle the planned production. As long as the European war lasts, the domestic demand for pork and lard will likely exceed available supplies, and lend-lease and military needs for meat will continue to be great. The Bureau of Agricultural Economics is currently predicting that after the war exports of pork and lard may be in a relatively large volume, provided adequate credit or other financial arrangements can be made. Any uncertainty in the demand for pork in the winter of 1945-46, the period when the 1945 spring pig crop will be marketed, depends upon whether or not this is a period of readjustment when lend-lease and military buying might be reduced and civilian unemployment temporarily increased.

On the supply side, the 1944 pig crop is expected to be one-fourth less than the record 1943 crop of 122 million head. The hog-corn price ratio, although currently more favorable than for several months, is not so favorable as to induce a marked increase in spring pigs, and more especially in early pigs. Another guidepost is the food production goals which nationally call for about the same number of spring pigs as were raised in 1944. It is logical to expect that a drive to obtain those goals will be accompanied by a price support program during this marketing period.

Farmers asked to aid census enumerator

Word has been received at the Cook county AAA office that immediately following the advent of the new year an agricultural census will be taken.

Carl M. Bormet, county AAA chairman, asked farmers to give the census enumerator as accurate an inventory as possible, because this data will greatly aid in administering farm programs.

"The detailed information for each farm, when totaled, gives an inventory of the nation's agricultural plant," Mr. Bormet explained. He added that from his experience in county AAA work from the early days of the Corn, Hog and Wheat programs to the present all-out production program, such agricultural data has been invaluable.

The information gathered by the Bureau of the Census is treated with the utmost confidence, Mr. Bormet added.

Soilless Gardening

Some of the coral islands now occupied by U. S. troops have no soil to support plant growth. So that men on these islands can grow food, a special kit for soilless gardening has been made up for them. It includes a canvas bucket, planting basin, seeds and chemicals.

Heavy culling of hens needed

Close culling of hens this winter is needed in order to bring egg production during the first half of 1945 in line with prospective needs. Why? The government has enough eggs on hand now to meet 1945 lend-lease requirements for dried eggs. These stocks of eggs were bought by the government in its effort to support farm egg prices in 1944. The government will again attempt to support egg prices, but with production at a high level and with a reduced demand, the task may become extremely difficult.

War food goals for 1945 call for a 16 percent decrease in egg production, but with the present number of hens on farms, production is expected to be only 8 to 12 percent lower. To meet this problem farmers are asked to cull 50 million hens between Nov., 1944 and Jan. 1, 1945. The goal for Illinois calls for the culling and marketing by March 1, 1945, of roughly one out of every four hens now on farms. This should be selective culling and not wholesale liquidation.

In addition to the problem of too many eggs, there are other reasons for culling hens. Poultry meat is in strong demand for military and civilian use. Also, it is questionable whether some hens are paying their way if costs of farm grains are considered. The present egg-feed price relationship is much less favorable than in recent years and will not improve during the first half of 1945.

Survey reveals cut in output low-cost clothes

When OPA Administrator Chester Bowles declared "price rises in clothing have been the greatest threat to the program of holding the line on the cost of living," his statement was backed by recently compiled figures of the Census Bureau and the War Production Board which have finally trapped in cold statistics the extent to which up-grading and fancying-up of items have influenced the increase in living costs.

Housewives for many months have been aware of the scarcity of lowcost work clothes for men and women and low-cost infants' and children's wear, says Miss Edna R. Gray, clothing specialist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

These recent statistics showing the quantity production in different price ranges reveal for the first time in figures the greatly reduced manufacture of low-cost items, though the total production of ready-to-wear was only slightly under that for the last half of 1943.

In the Census Bureau's report on its survey, made in cooperation with the WPB, production of clothing items during the first quarter of 1944 by price range was compared with an average production for the last half of 1943.

Production of dresses that sold at a unit price of $2.25 and under was down a little more than one-third, while production of dresses that were marked at $6.01 and up had soared to one-third more than the average for the last half of 1943.

Manufacturers turned to the production of more expensive garments because, as long as their materials were limited, they wished to produce items on which the greatest profits could be realized, and also because many people had money to buy more expensive clothing.

A look at blouse, waist and shirt production reveals the same trend. In those items which sold under $16.50 a dozen, production was off one-half that of the last half of 1943. The production of items over $22.50 a dozen was almost double that of the last half of 1943.

The Census Bureau's survey does show that production of essential items of children's clothing has been increasing in lines where WPB has issued production directives and priorities on materials.

However, a survey by the Bureau of Labor Statistics indicates that production of these items also has been directed into the higher priced lines and that less than one-half the demand for low-cost baby and children's clothing has been satisfied.

WPB attributed this continued shortage to an increased number of babies and to the fact that many babies, who in less prosperous times would have worn hand-me-downs, now have complete wardrobes of their own.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics survey estimates that three-quarters of the demand for higher priced baby clothes has been fulfilled. Serious shortages in men's cotton pajamas and business suits, boy's shorts, long pants, dress suits and cotton pajamas still exist. In two items, boys' shorts and cotton piece goods, less than one-fifth of the demand has been satisfied.

Lake-Cook services pass million mark

The Board of Directors of the Lake-Cook Farm Supply Company, in a special meeting held recently, reviewed the most successful year that the Company had ever experienced and reports that the Company did over a Million Dollar Volume in the services of Feeds, Seeds, and Petroleum Products to the farm members in the district the Company serves in Lake and Cook County, which makes them one of the outstanding farm companies in the State, in the field it serves.

Dividends of approximately $90,000.00 were voted by the Directors to be paid at the Annual Stockholder's meeting to be held in Lake Zurich on Saturday, January 20th. This huge dividend was made possible by the economical management of the Company in holding the operating expenses at the lowest figures in its history. This is, by far, the largest dividend ever paid by the Company and exceeds that of last year by $10,000.00.

The audit of the Company showed an extremely large increase in business, amounting to over a million dollars which was nearly a $200,000.00 increase over the year before. This large increase in the Company's business is attributed largely to the high quality of merchandise that has been serviced, of which Blue Seal Feeds, Lubricating Oils, and Magic Aladdin Gasoline constitute the major portion, together with the fact that the Company, due to its prestige has been able to secure necessary needs at all times for its patrons.

Remember the date of the Annual Meeting, January 20, 1945, at Lake Zurich.

Reduction of cattle numbers under way

The heavy marketing of cows, heifers and calves in 1944 indicates that a reduction in cattle numbers is under way. During the years in which cattle numbers are on the increase, the number of steers slaughtered usually exceeds the number of cows and heifers slaughtered; but when cattle numbers are being reduced, cow and heifer slaughter exceeds steer slaughter. Cattle numbers in the United States decreased from 73 million head in 1918 to 57 million head by 1928, increased to 74 million head by 1934, decreased to 65 million head by 1938, increased to an all-time high of 82 million head by January 1, 1944.

During 1944 the number of cows and heifers slaughtered under federal inspection is expected to exceed steer slaughter by 1.6 million head and for the first time since 1938. Also, a normal relationship between slaughter and numbers on farms and ranches January 1, 1944, would have resulted in a total cattle and calf slaughter of about 31½ million head in 1944, but it is now expected that total slaughter may be nearly 34 million head.

Preliminary estimates are that, compared with 1943, the 1944 federally inspected slaughter of steers will increase 8 percent; cows and heifers, 41 percent, and calves 48 percent. Most of the increase in cow and heifer slaughter has been in beef cattle and not milk animals. Consequently, it is expected that numbers of milk cows on farms January 1, 1945, will be larger than a year ago, but the number of beef cows will be smaller. Heavy marketings of both dairy and beef calves took place in 1944.

Consider number of spring pigs to raise in '45

Many Illinois hog producers will soon make their decisions as to the number of 1945 spring pigs they will attempt to raise. What are some of the factors which should be considered?

First, of course, is the question of whether there is adequate labor, equipment and feed to handle the planned production. As long as the European war lasts, the domestic demand for pork and lard will likely exceed available supplies, and lend-lease and military needs for meat will continue to be great. The Bureau of Agricultural Economics is currently predicting that after the war exports of pork and lard may be in a relatively large volume, provided adequate credit or other financial arrangements can be made. Any uncertainty in the demand for pork in the winter of 1945-46, the period when the 1945 spring pig crop will be marketed, depends upon whether or not this is a period of readjustment when lend-lease and military buying might be reduced and civilian unemployment temporarily increased.

On the supply side, the 1944 pig crop is expected to be one-fourth less than the record 1943 crop of 122 million head. The hog-corn price ratio, although currently more favorable than for several months, is not so favorable as to induce a marked increase in spring pigs, and more especially in early pigs. Another guidepost is the food production goals which nationally call for about the same number of spring pigs as were raised in 1944. It is logical to expect that a drive to obtain those goals will be accompanied by a price support program during this marketing period.

Sues Skokie

The Assessment Bond Service, Inc., has sued the Village of Niles Center, now Skokie, in circuit court to enforce settlement on various special assessment bonds which it owns. It alleges that the village has collected principal and interest payments on various bonds and has failed to segregate them according to the different series of bonds and has failed to pay the plaintiffs their share of the money thus collected on the bonds they hold. It asks an accounting of the bonds and payment to the plaintiff of sums found to be due it on bonds it holds.

Sues for death by shooting

Thomas Bulger, administrator of the estate of his son, Wallace, has sued Richard Shea in Superior court for $10,000 damages for causing the death of Wallace in a shooting accident in Glenview Sept. 24. It is alleged that Bulger was visiting Shea and the latter carelessly and negligently aimed a rifle at Bulger and pulled the trigger without first seeing that the gun was empty. It was loaded and Bulger was shot dead. Deceased left his father, mother and brother as heirs.

MEXICAN COLORS

Lots of the interest of fashions for South and Summer is in the skirt, as in the picturesque little dress shown above, of Mexican inspiration. This is made of a linen-like rayon in border print, with the skirt of green, rust and yellow stitched onto the bodice but nonetheless wrapped to the side. Skirts of many new sunback dresses are designed with most of the fullness in back, and daytime skirts are frequently buttoned down one or both sides to the hem.

Sues Skokie

The Assessment Bond Service, Inc., has sued the Village of Niles Center, now Skokie, in circuit court to enforce settlement on various special assessment bonds which it owns. It alleges that the village has collected principal and interest payments on various bonds and has failed to segregate them according to the different series of bonds and has failed to pay the plaintiffs their share of the money thus collected on the bonds they hold. It asks an accounting of the bonds and payment to the plaintiff of sums found to be due it on bonds it holds.

Sues for death by shooting

Thomas Bulger, administrator of the estate of his son, Wallace, has sued Richard Shea in Superior court for $10,000 damages for causing the death of Wallace in a shooting accident in Glenview Sept. 24. It is alleged that Bulger was visiting Shea and the latter carelessly and negligently aimed a rifle at Bulger and pulled the trigger without first seeing that the gun was empty. It was loaded and Bulger was shot dead. Deceased left his father, mother and brother as heirs.

Lots of the interest of fashions for South and Summer is in the skirt, as in the picturesque little dress shown above, of Mexican inspiration. This is made of a linen-like rayon in border print, with the skirt of green, rust and yellow stitched onto the bodice but nonetheless wrapped to the side. Skirts of many new sunback dresses are designed with most of the fullness in back, and daytime skirts are frequently buttoned down one or both sides to the hem.

What a life!

Serves at Anzio with combat engineers

'Enuf' says Steve Urick

Sending an account of his army life in Africa and Italy is Steve Urick of Arlington Heights.

"It was a big surprise to me to know I had been picked for the traveling bank. When you're feeling low, it is great to know the folks back home are thinking of you.

"For the past two years I have been reading with great interest of the whereabouts and experiences of my friends through the medium of the Herald. Finally I decided I should write, as some of my friends may be interested in knowing what I've been doing.

"My life in the army started in April, 1942. My basic training was in the ordnance line. I spent a year roaming the States counting my 'hup two's, picking up cigarette butts and match sticks, learning to make a bed without a wrinkle, pitching pup tents like a row of corn. Now, I wonder what all that training was for, as we police the grounds here by pushing the debris from the streets with a bull dozer. We don't have a bed to make, and when we get through pitching tents, it looks more like a gypsy camp, with no two fellows doing it alike.

Lands in Africa

"I landed in Africa with a base ordnance doing carpenter work with the utility section. It was mostly heavy rough construction. We put acres under roof to be used for shops. We did build 5 elaborate trailers for the generals, to be used as living quarters. One was for Patton and another for Bradley.

"The last six months of our work there we had crews of 25 Italian prisoners. They were willing workers and helped a lot in the construction. Our mechanics serviced many of the tanks and vehicles that took part in the Tunisian campaign. Our job was just like that at home with regular hours, good floors in our tent, electric lights, etc.

"On our days off we would go to town and meet a lot of doughboys from the front. They would kid us about our clean appearance with 'some guys get all the breaks' They ought to start another draft.

Feather bed to soggy dugout

"That's just what happened. I got caught in the second draft, except they called it 'Utilization of Limited Servicemen'. The 1-A men were to be replaced with reclassified, recuperated men from the front. And it was our turn to do our share of combat.

"Unlike most of my friends who stayed in Africa getting weeks of infantry training, in a little over a week I found myself transferred from a feather bed soldier to a wet soggy dugout on the 'hot spot of the hour', the 8x10 Anzio beachhead. I was with a truck outfit supplying the beachhead by ferry system. We would load with 5 tons, mostly ammo, drive onto the LST at Naples, and be at Anzio overnight.

"I'll never forget that first trip. We were all green at the job. As we pulled into shore I could see the shells dropping where we were to dock. We had our motors running and warmed up, foot on the clutch, ready to make the dash when the doors opened and runway let down. I could feel my knees shaking.

Dismal Anzio

"Anzio, what a morose, dismal looking place. The miserable cold, rain and mud added to the gloomy atmosphere. At that time our troops weren't sure they could hold the beachhead. They could neither advance nor retreat.

"There didn't seem to be anyone in town except for an occasional MP hiding in shelter of shells and rain. Everything seemed to be so mixed up no one knew where anything was. I wasn't up on the news, and hadn't the slightest idea how large the beachhead was. So when I was misdirected that the dump I was looking for was on a certain road, I kept on going until a shouting MP, who crawled out of a hole, bawled me out for being too near the front. That's the way it was all of the time.

"At first I was too dumb to be afraid. I didn't know the difference between our shells and Jerrie's, but I soon learned. What a rapid change that life was compared to what I had been used to. Everyone lived below ground, including our trucks. We had basement excavations alongside the trucks where we'd sleep. Even the ammo was bunked up.

Hard to relax

"I don't believe I had one night's sleep there. In order to sleep a person has to relax, and that was hard to do with the Anzio express (280 mm railroad gun) coming over all night long, plus a battery of our guns right next door.

"Then the Jerry sandman would come over dropping his sand in the form of bombs. He wasn't particular where he threw them, relying on percentage to get a few of us. One morning I crawled out of my hole to find three craters on all sides of me within 200 yards.

"Another time I got the crazy notion I didn't like my dugout, so so I went into the town itself, and found a building where the walls were 3 feet thick. I thought I'd be safe. But what a night. That was one of the two nights the Krauts threw over 400 shells, one hitting the building next to me. Ever after my dugout was good enough for me.

Get supplies from Jewel Tea

"Experience like that was life on the beachhead. We carried all of our equipment with us, doing our own cooking. We had the same rations packed by Jewel Tea at Barrington.

"I kept going back and forth hauling supplies for 4 months. Every time we'd pull out of the harbor I would get a feeling of relief, only to come back again, and find less of the town remaining. Only place we gained ground was in the cemeteries.

"When the push started we kept supplying the swift moving front. That's when I saw the most gruesome sights I ever hope to see. There were dead Krauts all over the roads. We had to weave in and out of all the bodies. It was more important to keep the Krauts on the run than take time to bury the dead.

"We saw the cheering crowds in Rome the second day. That was the time we got word our truck group served its purpose with commendations, and was breaking up. We were all sweating out when we'd be moved. Anything would have suited me except the infantry and combat engineers. And you might know I'd be sent to the combat engineers. I appeared to be 'working my way up front'.

A rugged life

"Ever since I've been with the combat engineers, blazing the trail through mines, blowing bridges, filling craters, blasting road blocks, having the elements against us as well as the Krauts. But it's not as bad as we expected, or else we've been lucky. It's interesting for we move around a lot.

"We live in buildings if there are any, otherwise pup tents. I'm living in a building tonight. It used to have windows until a tank fired its gun and the concussion blew out the glass.

"A large percentage of our work is 'Baily Bridge', a British design prefabricated steel, and put together with pins and bolts. It's a swell idea even though it is back-breaking. If the job is 'hot' it's done under cover of darkness. That's when I was amazed to see what could be done in the dark. Imagine reading a tape measure or level to the light of a cigarette.

"I never knew a country could have so many bridges, and most of them have been destroyed. There isn't a bridge we start without finishing before stopping, so you can imagine the time it takes. When the front moves up the bridge is replaced with a permanent wooden one at the convenience of the 'service engineers'.

Must test for mines

"Everywhere we go mines are always suspected, and the land has to be swept with a mine detector, which works swell with steel mines. But the Germans now have wooden, plastic, and cement box mines. A person has to be extra careful in this work for you can make but one mistake.

"A small creek is repaired with a culvert, while a bulldozer does the rest. We also have to blast clear Jerry concrete posts in the road. The Krauts will do anything to stop us, like blowing down rows of buildings where the streets are narrow, and blowing down trees in criss-cross fashion. It does my heart good when I read of our air force doing the same thing to Jerry roads. Doing this kind of work makes it easy to understand why a winter front moves so slow.

"When I say I've been lucky, I mean I've kept out of the infantry. Those are the boys who have it tough. If anyone thinks he has it rough, ask him to get into the infantry. They should get priorities when time comes to get out of service.

"I've traveled a good many miles and I'd say any corner of the U. S. is better than over here. If the U. S. didn't progress more in the next 500 years, Italy will still be far behind."

So. Pacific

From the South Pacific comes word from Roy Bedell of Prospect Heights. Roy is a ferry pilot of the ATC, and expected to be back in Texas by the time the letter arrived in Arlington.

"A few nights ago I saw a motion picture in the world's most attractive outdoor theatre. It was set in a huge grove of green leaved, stalwart cocoanut trees, rooted deep in the coral of the reefs of the South Pacific. The scene of a silver screen under the tropic moon, studded in a pattern of stars, was one which out classed all the dreams of would be theatre owners in the states.

"Theatre gates, electric lighted cocoanut logs, were sparkling, while the music of Christmas carols floated across the entire island. Crosby was singing "Silent Night," as we approached the theatre, and he continued as we advanced across the dazzling white floor composed entirely of shells. It was a gala night heralding the world premier of a new Hollywood production. Each cinema fan brought his own pillow, perched it softly against a broad, round log, as he stretched out completely reclined, face tilted moonward, while the music of Harry James waxed romantic.

"Yes, the screen triumph in a theatre of this amazing construction far surpassed any premier in the film capitol, where I visited few weeks ago, but an element was missing — women and matinee idols were conspicuously absent.

"After the picture, a group of ferry pilots drove down the beach with the music of name orchestras following us among the palms under the Southern Cross, and at last we reached our rendezvous for the evening. The target for the night was the diving raft in the middle of a coral lagoon. Refreshing dip in the salty but refreshing cool salt water, completed our evening.

"Next day found us at another island, after flying over clouds, in another world of white water filled mountains.

"This is just a glimpse into the life of the ferry pilot as he goes from winter uniform to summer fashions, back again, crossing and recrossing, navigating the crossroads of the world. The future is an 'air age' and the ATC paves the way on this planet.

"I'll write again upon my return to Dallas, where I hope a stack of Heralds will be waiting for me, for on these trips I receive no mail for a month or so at a time. Mrs. Bedell picks up my weekly in Texas, though.

His address is Lt. Roy Bedell, O-8266060, 5th Ferrying group, Love Field, Dallas, Texas.

Philippines

From the Philippines comes word of Richard Taege of Arlington Heights.

"Have moved again, this time farther from home. Watching the Navy shelling the island was quite a sight. They came through with another bang up job.

"This island is just like the other islands, except that the people are more civilized. Many of them are able to speak good English. Most of them are poor because of Japanese occupation. Their clothing is made from rags and burlap bags.

"The natives sure were glad to see American soldiers. They flew Filipino and American flags everywhere. Little children would hold up two fingers and wave the victory sign. It certainly made a warm feeling come over me to know I was one of Uncle Sam's boys liberating the Philippines.

"I've had to sweat out a lot of Jap strafing and bombings, which isn't such a good feeling. I've had good luck so far. Those Japs are desperate now for they know their supply lines are cut. The greatest thrill I've had so far is watching a group of our fighters dive into a formation of Nip bombers and shoot them down like clay pigeons. Jap planes were dropping in flames all around us."

His address is S/Sgt. Richard Taege, 36302251, APO 201, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Washington

From Bremerton, Washington, comes word of Bob Dieball of Arlington Heights.

"That Christmas meal was a good one. Haven't eaten so much in a long, long time. The meal included ripe olives, sweet mixed pickles, turkey gumbo soup, roast tom turkey, gravy, dressing, cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes, buttered peas, baked spice ham, lettuce salad, hot mince pie, neapolitan ice cream, fruit cake, Vienna rolls, mixed nuts, butter, coffee, and smokes."

What a life!

Serves at Anzio with combat engineers

'Enuf' says Steve Urick

Sending an account of his army life in Africa and Italy is Steve Urick of Arlington Heights.

"It was a big surprise to me to know I had been picked for the traveling bank. When you're feeling low, it is great to know the folks back home are thinking of you.

"For the past two years I have been reading with great interest of the whereabouts and experiences of my friends through the medium of the Herald. Finally I decided I should write, as some of my friends may be interested in knowing what I've been doing.

'My life in the army started in April, 1942. My basic training was in the ordnance line. I spent a year roaming the States counting my 'hup two's, picking up cigarette butts and match sticks, learning to make a bed without a wrinkle, pitching pup tents like a row of corn. Now, I wonder what all that training was for, as we police the grounds here by pushing the debris from the streets with a bull dozer. We don't have a bed to make, and when we get through pitching tents, it looks more like a gypsy camp, with no two fellows doing it alike.

Lands in Africa

"I landed in Africa with a base ordnance doing carpenter work with the utility section. It was mostly heavy rough construction. We put acres under roof to be used for shops. We did build 5 elaborate trailers for the generals, to be used as living quarters. One was for Patton and another for Bradley.

"The last six months of our work there we had crews of 25 Italian prisoners. They were willing workers and helped a lot in the construction. Our mechanics serviced many of the tanks and vehicles that took part in the Tunisian campaign. Our job was just like that at home with regular hours, good floors in our tent, electric lights, etc.

"On our days off we would go to town and meet a lot of doughboys from the front. They would kid us about our clean appearance with 'some guys get all the breaks' They ought to start another draft.

Feather bed to soggy dugout

"That's just what happened. I got caught in the second draft, except they called it 'Utilization of Limited Servicemen'. The 1-A men were to be replaced with reclassified, recuperated men from the front. And it was our turn to do our share of combat.

"Unlike most of my friends who stayed in Africa getting weeks of infantry training, in a little over a week I found myself transferred from a feather bed soldier to a wet soggy dugout on the 'hot spot of the hour', the 8x10 Anzio beachhead. I was with a truck outfit supplying the beachhead by ferry system. We would load with 5 tons, mostly ammo, drive onto the LST at Naples, and be at Anzio overnight.

"I'll never forget that first trip. We were all green at the job. As we pulled into shore I could see the shells dropping where we were to dock. We had our motors running and warmed up, foot on the clutch, ready to make the dash when the doors opened and runway let down. I could feel my knees shaking.

Dismal Anzio

"Anzio, what a morose, dismal looking place. The miserable cold, rain and mud added to the gloomy atmosphere. At that time our troops weren't sure they could hold the beachhead. They could neither advance nor retreat.

"There didn't seem to be anyone in town except for an occasional MP hiding in shelter of shells and rain. Everything seemed to be so mixed up no one knew where anything was. I wasn't up on the news, and hadn't the slightest idea how large the beachhead was. So when I was misdirected that the dump I was looking for was on a certain road, I kept on going until a shouting MP, who crawled out of a hole, bawled me out for being too near the front. That's the way it was all of the time.

"At first I was too dumb to be afraid. I didn't know the difference between our shells and Jerrie's, but I soon learned. What a rapid change that life was compared to what I had been used to. Everyone lived below ground, including our trucks. We had basement excavations alongside the trucks where we'd sleep. Even the ammo was bunked up.

Hard to relax

"I don't believe I had one night's sleep there. In order to sleep a person has to relax, and that was hard to do with the Anzio express (280 mm railroad gun) coming over all night long, plus a battery of our guns right next door.

"Then the Jerry sandman would come over dropping his sand in the form of bombs. He wasn't particular where he threw them, relying on percentage to get a few of us. One morning I crawled out of my hole to find three craters on all sides of me within 200 yards.

"Another time I got the crazy notion I didn't like my dugout, so so I went into the town itself, and found a building where the walls were 3 feet thick. I thought I'd be safe. But what a night. That was one of the two nights the Krauts threw over 400 shells, one hitting the building next to me. Ever after my dugout was good enough for me.

Get supplies from Jewel Tea

"Experience like that was life on the beachhead. We carried all of our equipment with us, doing our own cooking. We had the same rations packed by Jewel Tea at Barrington.

"I kept going back and forth hauling supplies for 4 months. Every time we'd pull out of the harbor I would get a feeling of relief, only to come back again, and find less of the town remaining. Only place we gained ground was in the cemeteries.

"When the push started we kept supplying the swift moving front. That's when I saw the most gruesome sights I ever hope to see. There were dead Krauts all over the roads. We had to weave in and out of all the bodies. It was more important to keep the Krauts on the run than take time to bury the dead.

"We saw the cheering crowds in Rome the second day. That was the time we got word our truck group served its purpose with commendations, and was breaking up. We were all sweating out when we'd be moved. Anything would have suited me except the infantry and combat engineers. And you might know I'd be sent to the combat engineers. I appeared to be 'working my way up front'.

A rugged life

"Ever since I've been with the combat engineers, blazing the trail through mines, blowing bridges, filling craters, blasting road blocks, having the elements against us as well as the Krauts. But it's not as bad as we expected, or else we've been lucky. It's interesting for we move around a lot.

"We live in buildings if there are any, otherwise pup tents. I'm living in a building tonight. It used to have windows until a tank fired its gun and the concussion blew out the glass.

"A large percentage of our work is 'Baily Bridge', a British design prefabricated steel, and put together with pins and bolts. It's a swell idea even though it is back-breaking. If the job is 'hot' it's done under cover of darkness. That's when I was amazed to see what could be done in the dark. Imagine reading a tape measure or level to the light of a cigarette.

"I never knew a country could have so many bridges, and most of them have been destroyed. There isn't a bridge we start without finishing before stopping, so you can imagine the time it takes. When the front moves up the bridge is replaced with a permanent wooden one at the convenience of the 'service engineers'.

Must test for mines

"Everywhere we go mines are always suspected, and the land has to be swept with a mine detector, which works swell with steel mines. But the Germans now have wooden, plastic, and cement box mines. A person has to be extra careful in this work for you can make but one mistake.

"A small creek is repaired with a culvert, while a bulldozer does the rest. We also have to blast clear Jerry concrete posts in the road. For Douglas War and Postwar Planes!
Douglas now has a $416,000,000 backlog order for war planes . . . and $140,000,000 in postwar orders from major airlines, including huge contracts for C-54 Combat transports. The C-54 is the transport companion to the B-29 Super Fortress which is now starting to bomb Japan into oblivion. The C-54 is the world's largest 4-motor transport in volume production and has the cabin dimensions of a standard railroad box car. Adapted for postwar airline use, it will be designated the DC-4. This is the plane used by President Roosevelt in his flights to Casablanca, Terheran, and Cairo. Now it is carrying munitions and men to the fighting front and wounded back to safety. After the war it will carry millions of airline passengers. This plane is built in the Douglas Chicago plant. You are needed to build it.
DON'T LET OPPORTUNITY PASS YOU BY!

HELP BUILD GIANT C-54's
Vitally Needed in the Pacific . . Start Your Postwar Future Today
After the war, aviation will be one of the major industries in the Chicago area. Airlines, aircargo carriers, maintenance and operations shops, and aircraft plants will have good jobs for workers who are properly trained. Prepare for your career in aviation NOW by working in the Chicago plant of Douglas Aircraft Company. No "cutbacks" or "layoffs" in sight here. Douglas employes will work at full capacity building vitally needed military transport planes until Japan is defeated. Then they will build planes for the airlines on orders already booked this far ahead.
You can get expert training here in aircraft skills that could well qualify you for profitable employment building peacetime airplanes or in the huge maintenance and operations plants which the airlines and aircargo enterprises will set up all over the country after the war. And you can be trained in working with the lighter metals such as aluminum and magnesium which will be used in the manufacture of so many postwar consumer goods.
Meanwhile you will be well paid for enjoyable work. Experienced or inexperienced . . . we train you so that you are bound to make good in fabrication, shop, assembly and installation work . . . what we term "beating on the airplanes." As interesting work as you'll ever find. If you want to serve your country, learn a new business, make good money and really enjoy your job, don't delay.
